A Kansas Beauty

MISS AMERICA, Deborah Bryant, smiles as Daly City Mayor Frank Pacelli and Miss Daly City Susann Bernard, left, and Miss San Mateo County, Georgina Hillerby, right, stand by.

Miss America Visits D.C.

Miss America came to Daly City last Wednesday and gave the audience at a Westlake fashion show a look at the warm smile which helped her win the crown.

The occasion was one in a series of appearances at H. Liebes stores in the Bay Area.

Miss America, otherwise known as Deborah Bryant, 19, of Kansas City, Kansas, was greeted by Miss San Mateo County, Georgina Anne Hillerby, who presented her with a bouquet.

Also on hand to welcome Miss Bryant were Daly City Mayor Frank Pacelli and Susann Bernard, Miss Daly City.

Miss Bryant, who said she plans to return to school next year, aspires to study medicine. She would like to be a pediatrician, she added.

She could not find medical school more hectic than her present schedule. Hustled away by her chaperones for a brief rest, Miss America spent two more days of appearances in the Bay Area, then flew on to Florida.

JUNE 7 VOTE TELLS TALE

Unification to Pare 18 Trustees

Twenty-five North County school trustee positions will be whittled down to seven if voters approve in June a plan to unify the area comprised by the Jefferson Union High School District.

North County residents, in addition to voting on the unification plan, will be asked to choose the seven trustees to govern the unified district.

The trustees would be elected on the basis of trustees areas. One trustee would be from the Bayshore School District area, one from Brisbane Elementary, two from Laguna Salada Elementary, and three from the combined Jefferson Elementary and High School areas.

The number of trustees to govern the unified district was recommended upon by a state review board. The state board of education then approved the number.

A survey of present North County trustees Monday showed that of those contacted, five have decided to run; five were undecided and four stated they wouldn't seek election.

Trustees who said they would run included Elio Fontana, chairman of the board of the Jefferson High School District; Edward Solomon of the high school district; Al Rigler of Brisbane, and George Perry of Jefferson Elementary.

It was learned that the Bayshore board will enter one of its members in the race but that the trustee who will be asked to run has yet to be determined.

Those who said they would not run included Thomas Noonan, chairman of the Jefferson Elementary board; O. Wayne Douglas, also of the Jefferson board; Rodney Clark of the Laguna Salada board and Mrs. Joyce Curry of Brisbane.

At least two trustees will be seeking election—but not on the unified school board. Noonan has entered the race for county assessor and Joseph Lewkowitz of Jefferson Elementary has announced he will run for county treasurer.

The concensus of trustees who said they were undecided was that it was too early to make a decision.

Filing for trustee election opened yesterday and will close March 25.

Each North County trustee was notified by letter only last week by County Schools Supt. James Tormey that the election of trustees for the unified board would be held in June.

The North County unification plan is the only one of three current county plans calling for election of trustees by trustee areas.

Residents in the San Mateo Union High and Sequoia Union High School District areas will elect seven trustees at large for each unified district.

Former D.C. Councilman Raps Council

Wilson Charges Terms Not Met

Former Daly City Councilman Del C. Wilson charged Monday night that the council and the Zita Corporation, developers of St. Francis Heights, had failed to live up to terms of a 1957 annexation agreement.

Defeated for re-election at the end of his term in 1958, Wilson recently filed papers in another attempt to regain his seat this April. His unannounced appearance took the council completely by surprise.

Wilson threatened the city and the corporation with a taxpayer's suit unless somebody provided him with evidence that the terms had been met, or had a good explanation why not.

Specifically, he said, the agreement provided that the corporation would give the city land for a fire station, a well site and other municipal purposes, and provide a community building.

Aside from the community building, Wilson declared, he could find no trace of the promised facilities.

City Attorney Paul Hupf, who with Wilson was a member of the council which approved the agreement in 1957, explained that the developer had agreed to provide the land and building in return for annexation to Daly City.

But the Zita Corporation, Hupf said, later contended that the offer was contingent upon full development of its land, 181 parcels of which were usurped by the Cabrillo Freeway.

For that reason the corpora-

Morgan Says Request Is 'Impossible'

JUHSD to Mull 'Segregation'

A second stormy meeting on a Jefferson High School District citizens' committee boundary report failed to materialize Monday night when the district superintendent recommended rejection of the most controversial part of the report.

The recommendation evoked a burst of applause from about 125 parents, teachers and students who had gathered in a conference room of Jefferson High School for a meeting of the district's board of trustees.

Supt. Edward D. Morgan, in a 30-minute analysis of the citizens' committee's recommendations, advised rejection of that part of the committee report that called for transporting some 300 students from Westmoor High School to Jefferson

Tormey Sets Election On Unification

County Schools Supt. James Tormey, acting on the basis of a ruling from the district attorney's office, last week called for an election June 7 on a state-backed plan to unify North County schools.

He acted after the County Committee on School District Organization had refused to call the election even though it had been informed by the district attorney's office that it had no other choice.

The plan would unify the area comprised by the Jefferson Union High School District. Voters also will be asked to choose seven trustees to govern the unified district.

The election was one of three called by Tormey on unification plans in the county. Residents in the San Mateo Union High School and Sequoia High School Districts also will vote June 7 on unification and selection of trustees.

Tormey, by letter, informed

BY VALLEY RESIDENTS

Cow Palace Road Racing Protested

Bayshore residents in Daly City have launched a protest campaign against a plan by the Cow Palace to run road races outside the big arena on Cow Palace property.

Mrs. Christine Pack if 112 McDonald Avenue, a spokesman for the protesting group, said petitions are being circulated throughout the Bayshore area and in neighboring areas of San Francisco.

She said a group of 38 residents met Saturday at her home to map out the protest drive and will meet again at 2 p.m. this Saturday in her home.

"The residents of this area are objecting very strenuously to the very thought of bringing races into the valley," she declared.

(The Bayshore area is situated in a region long known as Visitacion Valley.)

Mrs. Pack said noise from the Champion Speedway Raceway north of Brisbane, just west of the Bayshore Freeway, "seems to echo in the valley." And she added:

"Can you imagine what a raceway right here in the valley will do?"

Edward Diran, general manager of the Cow Palace, has outlined a plan that would place an auto raceway over the hills and roads of the Cow Palace property.

Mrs. Fassler Is First In Filing Derby

Supervisor Jean Fassler of Pacifica, in a well-co-ordinated and pre-planned move, Monday won the distinction of being the first candidate to file for election in the county primary elections June 7.

Mrs. Fassler, seeking election to a two-year term, showed up at County Clerk John Bruning's office shortly after it opened at

Pacifica Inn Is Destroyed By Flames

One of Coastside's historic landmarks — Mori's Point Restaurant — was consumed in flames last week while Pacifica firemen battled for hours to protect nearby buildings.

The two-story structure, built in the nineteenth century, had been closed for the last six months after being condemned by the Pacifica building and fire inspector. However, it contained some $20,000 in antique furnishings which were to be auctioned next week.

The old building was situated on the beach at the foot of Mori's Point Road near Pacifica. It had enjoyed a somewhat "unsavory reputation" during prohibition days when, according to local residents, it served as a headquarters for rumrunners.

More than 30 firemen and four pieces of equipment arrived at 6:40 p.m. Friday to find

Minshew Assails Bunker Decision

Pacifica's decision to convert a World War II Army bunker into a police headquarters, jail and emergency operating center was assailed by Councilman Harland Minshew at a meeting of the City Council last week.

Minshew had been absent because of illness when the Council passed a resolution in favor of converting the bunker.

He said the estimated cost of $106,000 was too high to "renovate a concrete hole in the ground." And he added he did not believe that all alternatives had been thoroughly examined.

Flu Epidemic Tapering Off In N. County

The flu epidemic appears to be easing in the North County, at least among school children and teachers.

"Absences at all of our schools dropped," said a spokesman Monday for the South San Francisco Unified School District.

The picture in the Jefferson Union High School District was "much, much better," while Jefferson elementary, San Bruno Park and Laguna Salada districts also reported absences down substantially over last week.

Teacher absences were down correspondingly, although officials in South San Francisco said they were hard put to find enough healthy substitutes for the 35 regular teachers ill Monday.

A check by districts revealed these statistics:

The Post Expands Coverage

With the addition of 7,300 homes in San Bruno, The Post this week becomes the largest weekly newspaper covering the North County.

The Post's North County Edition is now delivered to 42,038 residences in the cities of Daly City, Colma, South San Francisco, Pacifica and San Bruno. Retail advertisers also enjoy an additional 10,616 paid circulation in The Times daily newspaper on Wednesday afternoons, for a grand total of 52,654 homes each week.

The Post readers from San Bruno through Daly City are reminded that they may call toll-free to the North County office, located at 30 Park Plaza Drive in Daly City. All newspaper services—classified, retail and legal advertising, daily Times subscriptions, and news—may be reached by calling the toll-free north Peninsula number, WY 2-2262.

The North County bureau has been expanded to include three full-time reporters, plus free-lance correspondents and photographers, in an aim to offer complete localized news and picture coverage for each of the North County cities.

In addition to the full-time news departments in the Daly City office and The Times' daily news room, correspondents operate in each of the communities. They are: Pacifica—Berenice Palmer, 150 Shell Avenue; San Bruno—Mrs. Doris Christiansen, 117 San Juan Avenue, and Mrs. Louise Kirkpatrick, 2341 Fleetwood Drive (Rollingwood news); South San Francisco—Mrs. Vera Marcus, 154 Northwood Drive; Daly City — Mrs. Louanne Heath, 70 De Soto.

Deadline for news copy is Friday at 5 p.m. for the following Wednesday's publication. Classified ad users wishing to have their ads in the Wednesday Post should call in no later than 5 p.m. on Monday. Ads for The Times daily newspaper may be called in the day before publication.

and some 300 students from Jefferson to Westmoor.

The proposal had been advanced by the committee as a way of eliminating possible de facto segregation at Jefferson.

In his analysis, Morgan declared:

"In my opinion, it is almost impossible to ask 600 students — 300 from Jefferson and 300 from Westmoor — to shift their allegiances and become loyal and contributing members of another school."

He noted that "it is natural for parents to oppose transferring children, particularly when such a transfer will not in any way improve the educational opportunities of the children involved."

At the board's last meeting, held at Oceana High School, some 400 persons turned up to protest the recommendation that students be shifted between Westmoor and Jefferson.

At the conclusion of the session, the board instructed Morgan to draw up administrative recommendations on the committee's report.

The committee had been asked to study enrollment and classroom space in the district because of overcrowding at Westmoor.

In his review of the committee's findings, Morgan endorsed almost all of the report.

He laid particular stress on a proposal that a new citizens' committee on boundaries and de facto segregation be established and that elementary school districts join this program.

He recommended that the group be appointed about July 1 and that it be instructed to seek either state, federal or private funds to finance its studies.

"This new committee should be asked to submit its report to the school districts not later than September of 1967," he remarked.

Morgan also endorsed the committee's recommendation that beginning in September of this year, ninth, tenth and eleventh grade students living south of a proposed new Westmoor-Oceana boundary line should attend Oceana.

The committee had suggested that the boundary run along Casa Avenue and El Dorado Drive, west to St. Francis Boulevard, south to Southgate Avenue, west to Woodland Avenue, west on Woodland to the Skyline Freeway, south on Skyline to a point opposite 1000 Skyline Drive, then west to the Pacific Ocean.

The superintendent also recommended that for the 1966-67 school year, the board of trustees grant students south of the boundary, entering eleventh grade, the option of whether to attend Westmoor or Oceana.

He declared that "it is physically impossible for Westmoor to house its anticipated 1966-67 and 1967-68 enrollments."

At the conclusion of his comments, the trustees called two public hearings on the boundary issue. The first will be held at 7:30 next Monday night in the Little Theatre of Westmoor High School and the second at 7:30 p.m. March 21 in the cafeteria of Oceana High School.

dents were absent Monday, compared to 21 per cent last Friday. Teacher absences dropped from nine to two per cent at the district's four high schools.

In Jefferson elementary district, the student absentee rate dropped from 19 per cent Friday to 13 per cent Monday, with six per cent of the teachers in the district's 20 schools still ill.

Absences in San Bruno Park district's 11 schools were down to 10.7 per cent Monday, from 18 per cent Friday. Officials said teacher absences also declined.

In South San Francisco, Friday's 19.2 per cent absence rate was cut to 12.2 per cent this week. The 16 schools in the district reported 35 teachers absent, compared to 50 on Friday.

The Laguna Salada School District reported 12 per cent of its students absent Monday, a 4 per cent drop over Friday. Fifteen teachers at the 13 Laguna Salada schools were still ill.

Coast Bunker Inspected

tion declined to honor the agreement, Hupf declared.

The city attorney added that several state court decisions have cast doubt on the validity of such annexation agreements, and the city did not take action to test the Zita agreement for fear of jeopardizing other agreements which were being honored.

Councilmen, evidently satisfied with Hupf's explanation, agreed that further questions by candidate Wilson should be directed to the city attorney or city clerk.

A somewhat more current problem was put before the council by William Bacon, who identified himself as chairman of a Bayshore citizens committee.

The committee, said Bacon, is concerned over reports indicating that the Cow Palace may be a suitable site for automobile road races previously held at Candlestick Park.

Speaking for his committee, Bacon said, "We believe that we are entitled to peace and quiet." Furthermore, he added, "We belive that this (the races) would jeopardize and infringe on races on the Cow Palace grounds would present a safety and traffic hazard in the neighborhood.

The council expressed its agreement with Bayshore residents, who are circulating petitions which demand an order restraining promotion of any Cow Palace races. Nevertheless, it was pointed out, the Cow Palace is a state institution and has frequently flaunted the wishes of Daly City.

City Manager Edward Frank was directed to investigate and make a report to the citizens committee.

In other action, the council last night adopted, subject to planners' conditions, a tentative map for the Lakeview Park subdivision, adjacent to Westmoor High School.

Councilmen also agreed with Councilman Albert Polonsky, who took the floor to reassure citizens that Daly City has no intention of abandoning its efforts to obtain a park on San Bruno Mountain.

the rear of the second story involved in flame. The first two crews tried to knock it out with 1,000 gallons of water from their trucks to no avail. More than 1,700 feet of hose had to be laid from a distant fireplug.

However, when it became evident that it was a losing battle, firemen were pulled off the building and ordered to hose down an apartment building just 30 feet away. High winds whipped the flames toward the apartments but there was no damage.

One fireman, Thomas Elliott, 23, of Pacifica, was injured when a hot cinder lodged under his eyelid. He was treated and returned to work.

Capt. James Evans, of the fire department, said the conflagration was started under "suspicious circumstances." He noted that the point where the fire began was the "ideal place to set off the whole building."

"Winds blew up to 30 miles an hour so hosemen had to get right up next to the flames to get water on them," he said.

After four hours of battling the fire, 26 of the men were called to Oceana Television, 1604 Francisco Boulevard, in Pacifica, to fight a blaze in the back of the store.

The men managed to confine the fire area to four back rooms, but at least $7,000 in damages, including 30 television sets, were claimed by the blaze.

Capt. Evans also attributed the cause of the fire to "suspicious circumstances."

Sherwood's name will remain on the ballot because he had formally filed for election. However, he said, "I won't campaign."

He is an assistant general yardmaster for the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Sherwood said his wife had been informed that her application for a job as reservations clerk at the Pinecrest Lodge near Dodge Ridge had been accepted and that she would start in June.

He said he also hoped to obtain employment with the lodge. "It will give us a chance to get the kids out of the city," he remarked.

The couple are the parents of four sons.

commission ruled that only Lucky use the sign—not other advertisers.

Other advertisers, according to the commission, would have to come to the commission to seek approval if they wished to use the same structure.

In other action the commission:

Granted permission to F. Benetti of 538 Rocca Avenue to have a rear yard average grade of 30 per cent instead of the allowable 5 per cent.

Granted permission to John Grennan of 323 Catherine Drive to make an addition to his home which would cover 45 per cent of the lot area instead of the allowable 40 per cent.

Recommended the granting of a use permit to L. and J. Ercoli to add 690 square feet to a restaurant and bar at 713 Linden Avenue on the condition that the owners comply with the city's new parking space laws.

D.C. Honors Its Longtime Employes

Daly City paid tribute to its old-timers Monday night, with service awards to employes who have been on the staff for five, ten and 15 years.

Also honored in public presentation ceremonies at the regular City Council meeting were several members of the police force, who received certificates for completion of special training courses.

Those with the longest records of service to the city were Police Patrolman John Van Otten and Thomas Jones, water maintenance foreman, each of whom has served for 15 years.

Six awards were made for ten years of service, and 12 employes were honored for five years of service.

The awards of medallions and certificates were made by the five city councilmen.

Employes honored and their lengths of service were:

Five - year awards: Edward Tomasello, recreation supervisor; Muriel Mermon, police typist - clerk; Patrolman Dennis Sheehy; Gary Curto, fireman; Betty Anderson, engineering secretary; Michael Lemke, inspector surveyor, and Stanley Solamillo, engineering draftsman.

Joseph Gerack, assistant city building inspector; Arvid Peterson, custodian; James Burman, street maintenance; Frank Davison, water maintenance, and Earl Dunphy, water operator.

Ten - year awards: Gladys Cheda, accounting machine operator; Patrolman James Bergstrom and Stephen Steen and Sgt. Matthew Murray; Maurice Clark, assistant building inspector, and George Valente, equipment operator.

Fifteen-year awards: Patrolman John Van Otten, and Thomas Jones, water maintenance foreman.

The city council focused on a planning commission recommendation that California Cable Communications Corporation be allowed to build an antenna array atop a city reservoir on Skyline Drive, and passed a resolution concurring with the approval.

In contrast to a previously planned tower, the antenna to be built will not even be visible from windows of surrounding houses.

sium—for a night of activity under the supervision of parents) to the district attorney's office.

Board member George S. Barulich made the recommendation and said that "I am for the district taking out insurance if and when the next grad night is scheduled."

He emphasized that he was "for" the grad nights but that the district ought to "protect itself in such matters."

Dr. Nielsen commented that the situation (the grad nights) was unique in that "parents are in charge of the situation and responsible for the students' actions but, really, the school might have some liability too."

He concluded by stating that "they (graduated students) are out of our jurisdiction but not really out of our sphere of liability."

In other action the board:

Approved a new tennis coach for El Camino High School by naming Thomas Conlon to the post.

Approved working drawings and the advertisement of bids for the construction of the new Foxridge School.

trustees and superintendents of all districts affected by the unification proposals that the elections are required by law.

The elections will be combined with the state-wide primary, scheduled for June 7.

Tormey called the elections after declaring that the county committee had forfeited its right to act.

Allen B. Beaumont of Burlingame, chairman of the committee, declared later that Tormey "has been very high-handed." And he vowed:

"If there is any way to block him, I'm going to try to do it."

The committee has favored small unified school districts. Its recommendations to split the Jefferson, San Mateo and Sequoia districts were turned down twice by the state.

A state - appointed review board subsequently recommended the present unification plans, which were approved by the State Board of Education.

At the county committee's meeting last week, Deputy District Attorney Lois Scampini informed members that state law requires the unification elections to be held during the current school year.

She said the only way this could be accomplished would be by consolidating the unification elections with the primary.

Tormey said the board could not delay a decision because the filing period for candidates in the primary election was to open Monday.

The committee, however, did not accept Tormey's advice and recessed its meeting until mid-March to give it time to study other possibilities.

use or re-sale value," he urged. A lease from the U.S. Army for the bunker would include a cancellation clause.

Councilman Don McManis, who had voted against the bunker conversion, agreed with Minshew.

Mayor James Fox assured Minshew that each step in the bunker plan was contingent on the previous one.

"We are not at a point of no return," he said, "and it is still a budget item which could be reconsidered after the April 12 election if the Civic Center purchase site goes through."

"We only gave authority for the preparation of plans," Councilman Fred Ballew added. "We had to do something, we just couldn't let the situation go on any longer with the Police Department."

Police headquarters now occupy small offices in the City Hall. There is no jail.

In answer to a question from George Mason, a candidate for councilman, Karl Baldwin, City Manager, said that less than 25 per cent of the bunker would be used for Civil Defense.

If the first part of your car registration number is here, you might be a winner.
Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next weeks list of new symbols in this newspaper.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number. While you're in the showroom, get a good look at the Buick Special. The $2332.00* happens to be its price. *Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-8, 2-dr. coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge.
Contest Rules. Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P.O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.
Buick's $1,000,000 Sweepstakes.
There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

Devil's Slide Fog Blamed for Crash

Fog was blamed for a traffic accident on Devil's Slide last week in which a Pacifica woman was hurt.

Highway patrolmen said Shirley Diane Wright, 22, of 1195 Escalero Avenue, was driving south when her small foreign car slipped on the wet pavement and skidded into a guard rail, then crashed into an embankment. She was taken to Mary's Help Hospital for treatment of mouth injuries.

Charles D. Ratti, 75-year-old pensioner of 15 Poincetta Drive, Daly City, was treated at Peninsula Hospital for cuts suffered in an accident at Dorado and Country Club drives near South San Francisco. Ratti told officers he was lost and was looking for street signs when his car drifted off of the roadway and crashed into a utility pole.

Two El Granada boys were injured when their car crashed off of Cabrillo Highway in Half Moon Bay. Michael Driver, 17, told officers he was northbound when a car came directly at his auto from the opposite direction. He swerved and the car spun off of the road and overturned. He and Phil Torre, 17, were taken to Mills Memorial Hospital.

2 Viewpoints On Vietnam Are Argued

By BERENICE PALMER

Two strongly divergent viewpoints on the American involvement in Viet Nam were presented at a meeting of the Pacifica unit of the California Republican Assembly at the Vallemar school Friday evening.

The Rev. David Ehline, pastor of the Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Pacifica, stated his views, which he said were opposed to "war as a way to stop communism."

A former Daly City Councilman, Hugh Smith, supported the United States policy in Viet Nam. Smith recently returned from a nine-week business tour during which he visited Viet Nam.

He read from an article in the February 3 issue of The San Mateo Times, that described his interview with an Air Force colonel. It discussed what he said was harm done by the bombing lulls and suggested the use of Nationalist Chinese troops.

Previous to the discussion, a film entitled, "While Brave Men Die" was shown.

According to Dr. Charles Hauser, moderator at the meeting and professor at the Conservative Baptist Theological Seminary of San Francisco, which lent the film, "it had been edited to show a pro-Viet Nam viewpoint."

The film, narrated by Fulton Lewis Jr., featured scenes of American protest activities and associated many of the groups and individuals to Communist organizations.

Reverend Ehline and Mrs. Frances Power, representing Pacificans for Human Concern, both described the film as "slanted" and "biased."

Mrs. Power said that the true motivations of the dissenters were not depicted. "I feel," she stated, "that anyone has a right to question what is happening today."

Michael Haggerty, head of the Pacifica Unitarian Fellowship, also questioned the film. "Why," he asked, "is dissent as depicted in the film not healthy while here it is?"

Smith suggested that the background of peace proponents should be "looked into." He said that he felt troop morale is high and peace groups in this country represent a small minority, which are exploited by the press and television.

Reverend Ehline responded: "Condemnation by association is a very shaky business. He said he deplored the inference that those who are against the administration position have sympathies with the enemy.

Roger Meidinger of 309 Shoreside Road, Pacifica, challenged some of Smith's statements during the audience discussion. Meidinger has been active in protest movements.

"People are dying over there," he said. "It is death of human beings and whether they are Viet Cong or American, who is to say which is more important?

"Instead of sending over television sets, why don't we build schools and hospitals? The Communists at least promise a few rice paddies. What are we giving but napalm and destruction?"

It was reiterated by several in the audience that "pacifism will get us nowhere" and "we have to stop communism here." Smith contended that if the United States had stopped it in Cuba, the nation would not be now fighting Communists thousands of miles away.

Ehline said much of the South Vietnamese army is defecting because it is not really committed to a cause.

The meeting concluded with small discussion groups. Emory Lebonville, 11th Congressional Director for the CRA, said he felt the meeting had achieved its goal and generated "a friendly exchange of viewpoints."

COUNTY TREASURER

Lewkowitz Will Seek S.M. Post

Joseph Lewkowitz, Daly City's treasurer for the past six years, has announced that he will run for county treasurer against incumbent Al Sagehorn.

The campaign will be Lewkowitz' first try for county-wide office.

In a statement, he said that he feels the county teasurer's office can be "modernized" and that the position is becoming more important because of the growth of the county.

In addition to his position as Daly City treasurer, Lewkowitz also is a member of the board of trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District. He has been a trustee for the past 13 years.

In private life, he is the sales manager for Petty Realty Company in Daly City. Prior to joining Petty four and a half years ago, he operated a service station at Bepler and San Jose for 17 years.

Lewkowitz has been a resident of Daly City since 1939. He is a member of a number of civic, community and professional organizations, including:

The Daly City Lions Club; Local 6 of the Musicians Union; the Independent Order of Foresters (I.O.O.F.); the Municipal Finance Officers Association of the United States; the San Francisco Real Estate Board; the Northern San Mateo Real Estate Board and the California Mcnicipal Treasurers Association.

He is a former member of the Eagles; is active in Civil Defense work, is an area coordinator for the Red Cross and is a member of the National Congress of Parent-Teacher organizations.

He and his wife, Dolly, live at 277 San Fernando Way. They are the parents of four sons and three daughters. Five of the children are married.

Deaths

ANNE E. WILLIAMS

Mrs. Anne E. Williams, 59, 327 Fairway Drive, South San Francisco, died at Mary's Help Hospital after a long illness. She was a native of Washington state, and a resident of the Peninsula for 25 years.

Survivors include her son, Sam Williams, South San Francisco, and three sisters, Mrs. Meda Teasdale, Washington; Mrs. Ethel Hinckley, Chula Vista, and Mrs. Margaret Skaggs, South San Francisco.

Funeral services were held Friday at the Larson Garden Chapel, with inurnment at Woodlawn Memorial Park.

MYRTLE McGARRY

Mrs. Myrtle McGarry, aunt of Mrs. Catherine Berriatua, South San Francisco, died at Laguna Honda Home in San Francisco after a long illness. She was a native and life-long resident of San Francisco.

Requiem mass was celebrated Friday at 9 a.m. at Mater Dolorosa Church. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery. The rosary was recited tonight at 8 p.m. at the Larson Garden Chapel.

EGIDIO CUNEO

Funeral services were held from the San Bruno Funeral Home for Egidio Cuneo, 74, a former San Bruno resident, who died at St. Mary's Hospital, San Francisco.

Surviving are two brothers, Joseph J. Cuneo, San Bruno, and Andrew Cuneo, Oakland, and a sister, Victoria Pera, San Francisco.

Entombment was in Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma.

Bandit Robs S.S.F. Market

A "friendly" bandit held up Siri's Market, 249 Hillside Boulevard, South San Francisco, Sunday and escaped with $2,000.

Clerk Philip J. Armanino, 22, of San Francisco, told officers a man about 38 years old and about 5-feet 11-inches tall pretended he was a shopper until the building was locked up. He then pointed an automatic pistol at the clerk and said, "This is a holdup — give me all the money."

S.S.F. Youths Save Family In House Fire

Two small children saved the lives of several South San Franciscans last week when they discovered a fire burning in their own apartment and aroused all their neighbors.

The heroes are Rama and Mari Stokesbary, ages 9½ and 8, children of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stokesbary, 404 Miller Avenue.

Their parents had gone to work and both children were at home because the local schools were closed for the George Washington's Birthday holiday.

Shortly after 8 a.m. Mari was playing on the floor with her doll when she saw smoke coming out of a clothes closet. She opened the door and saw flames, then woke her brother, Rama, who was asleep on the nearby bed.

The children ran through the eight-unit apartment arousing all the other residents, and someone called in the fire alarm.

Fire Chief John Marchi says the closet was completely aflame when his men arrived, but that the fire was quickly controlled before it spread to the other apartments.

The Stokesbarys lost everything, however, and were referred to the Red Cross for temporary housing.

Chief Marchi said damage from the fire was estimated at about $3,500, completing the worst fire weekend in recent South San Francisco history.

Ten days ago a $12,000 blaze raged through the 109 Mulberry Avenue home of Joseph Sanchez, who was asleep in his bedroom and had to be carried from the building because he was nearly overcome with smoke.

A bedroom fire apparently resulting from smoking in bed ruined part of the home of Jesus Guterrez at 527 Commercial Avenue. Damage was estimated at "several hundred dollars."

A $1,500 blaze resulted from a child playing in a clothes closet with matches, said Chief Marchi. The fire was at the home of Frank Cianciolo, 406 Holly Avenue, at 7:28 p.m.

D.C. Youths Fight Cancer With Exhibit

"Youth Against Cancer" under the sponsorship of the Daly City Auxiliary of the American Cancer Society, will present free to the public, an educational exhibit about cancer today through Friday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Boys and girls from Jefferson and Westmoor High Schools and students belonging to the "Medical Careers" group of the high schools will serve in the booth at the Westlake Mall after their school hours: the early hours will also find auxiliary volunteers in the booth.

The students and auxiliary volunteers will distribute free "life-saving" literature dealing with all phases of cancer research and treatment.

at the POST

By LE PACINI

WHAT WILL follow here is another At the Post first. It's an excerpt from a novel about sandlot baseball by a local writer who has given his permission to use it. It sort of struck home to us. See if it hits you in the same tender spots?

You may note occasional blank spaces. That's because this is a family newspaper:

"Every year without fail I go to my old high school baseball alumni dinner. I do not know why, because it's always the same . . . I mean, you know, you stand around lying to everybody about how good they look and they look lousy . . .

"You meet guys like Harry Grant who you always hated, a guy who would give you the shirt off his back as long as you gave him two shirts back within 30 days, and you shake hands with him like you are old buddies, and damned if you don't almost like him after all these years, even though it takes six scotches and waters to like a guy like Harry and forget what a . . . he was and probably still is.

"And you meet a guy like Willie Perkins, a real dull character whose idea of being daring is walking around with a hole in his shoe . . . and you have to buy him drinks and get stuck with him for a half hour and act cordial and interested in the fact that his idiot son is getting married—I do not care if the kid kicks off tomorrow.

"Then you meet a . . . pest like Phil Smith, a pretty nice guy actually, but he gets on your nerves because he still stutters . . . You hate to fluff the guy off because, like I said, he means well, but he gets on your nerves. A pretty good outfielder in high school—he could run—but would confuse hell out of outfielders on fly balls hit between them because by the time he said I got it, the ball was by both of them. He would get in collisions once a week . . .

"AND YOU MEET guys like Rick Stewart, an old buddy, one guy . . . out of the whole crowd you really (like) without the aid of booze. You haven't seen him in years because you lost contact with him even though he does live in the same city, and you hear he is driving a truck and you always mean to look him up, and then you meet him and you feel sort of embarrassed not trying to see him outside of an alumni banquet. Then you start to talk and you suddenly find out this is not the same Rick Stewart. It is not the same crazy bugger you used to run around with, the same sharp character, smooth with the ladies. It is a short, fat, baldheaded, henpecked old guy with a pinstriped, double breasted suit who has to be home by midnight, and you are embarrassed for him.

"You talk and for about 10 minutes things are fine, because you can always kill five minutes or so talking about your wives . . . and then you find out you do not have anything in common anymore and the first thing you know you are embarrassed again and talk about the weather or the Yanks . . . and you keep drinking and talking about things you did years ago, the same things you have talked about years ago many times before, and it all gets sort of sickening and boring after a while and pretty soon you are looking for an excuse to leave, and the first thing you know you are promising to drop in on Rick Stewart some time and you know you never will because he is not Ricky Stewart any more and you are not you.

"And every year the crowd gets younger and you have to meet new guys because there ain't so many of the old ones around any more, and you stand talking about old times and drinking stuff you do not like and pretend you are having a good time when all the time you are dying to get home and . . . go to bed. You stand around and insult your wife and . . . you tell guys they put on weight or lost it and rib them about their bald heads, or say it is amazing they still have all that hair, and you tell them they look the same when you wouldn't have recognized them if you saw them in the street . . . You talk about how grey they got or how they didn't get grey, and what do they do, use black shoe polish on their hair, and silly . . . things like that.

"You promise to drop in with the wife and maybe even mean it at the time because you are half lit, but deep down you know you won't and once a year is enough to see anybody.

"So you get together and talk about the progress you have made over the years . . . and even if it is true, which it usually is not, then believe me, brother, progress, it is sad.

"It makes you sort of depressed, and what is bad about it is not so much how you feel about these guys, but you know they are thinking the same thing about you.

"But every year you have to go back and be reassured that you once were a pretty good athlete and not a pot bellied middle aged guy, and you get to remember how things once were and try to relive things when you know they can never be the same.

"They should not have alumni meetings. It is not that they bring back memories, really, it is that they make you look into the future.

JEFF CHASE, who was billed as America's number two pole vaulter (behind John Pennel) in the recent Golden Gate Invitational meet at the Cow Palace, is, unknown to many, a Jefferson High graduate, class of '57.

He did his vaulting for Ernie Ribera and Bob Watt, who are now principal and vice principal, respectively, of Oceana High School.

Chase, who later attended San Jose State, was under Ribera's tutelage as a junior. When Ribera became social science department head and track coach at Westmoor, Watt, who had been assisting Ribera, inherited Chase.

"Chase was a nice kid," says Watt, "and a very determined athlete." Chase did work hard. Besides vaulting he ran the high hurdles and other racing events when needed, and was also a cross country man.

"My greatest disappointment concerning Jeff," says Watt, "was that he was only 16 as a senior, and far from full physical development. He was almost as tall (6-4) as he is now, but skinny and not very strong. At that, he managed to hit 12-6 on practically his 'swing' alone. And bear in mind, he was using an aluminum pole in those days."

Jeff has a younger brother, Dennis, who was vaulting consistently at 14-feet at College of San Mateo, but he has since dropped out of competition.

Jeff, incidentally, is now teaching junior high school in San Jose and has two children.

DALY CITY'S Dr. Ron Luceti was recently identified by a San Francisco daily as the winner of several European amateur golf championships while in the Army. But we all know that the European champ is really Ron's brother and partner in teeth fixing, Dr. Jack Luceti. Ron wins his titles in the U.S.

Tournament Is Next For Warrior 5

South San Francisco High School's North Peninsula League champions will take a perfect 12-0 league ledger and an 18-2 season log with them into the Peninsula Basketball Tournament March 10 after the Warriors decimated their final two NPL foes last week.

The point-hungry Industrial City crew (which set a league scoring record) racked up 180 points in downing El Camino last Wednesday and hapless Oceana last Friday.

Greg Jones played his last game for South San Francisco last week as the NPL champion closed out the season with a 91-47 win over Oceana High School at South San Francisco. He climaxed his career by scoring 22 points, chalking up his 1000th varsity point on a driving layup in the first quarter to become the Warriors all-time high scorer.

Jones' 1,020 points surpassed the mark held by Dick Drake (Class of 1962). Drake had compiled 761 over two varsity seasons.

But Jones' swan song was overshadowed yesterday by forward Jim Henry. Henry gathered 23 points to lead the victory — the Warriors 12th win against no losses. And it was Joe Smith, who came through with 15 points, who earned praise from Coach Bill Purcell.

"Joe had a good game for us today, but he's done the job all year. There's no doubt in my mind that he'd be a standout star on many other teams in the county."

Warming up for the rough going ahead at Palo Alto, the Warriors handled the ball well and the reserves got in some valuable playing time. Put in high gear, the Warrior offense reeled off 26 and 28 points in the first and third quarters respectively.

Oceana got some needed scoring out of the dependable Tim Sershan, as he chipped in 10 points. Both Purcell and Oceana coach Rick Warne agree that the young Sershan is a comer.

The South San Francisco Cagers annexed their eleventh NPL win against no defeats by outscoring El Camino High, 89-77, at the Colts' gym Wednesday.

Unlike previous games, the Colts were anything but awed by the presence of the undefeated Warriors and the latter team displayed the form which has made it one of the most feared scoring contingents on the Peninsula this year.

"Both clubs were loose and put on a good offensive show for the crowd," said Warrior head man Purcell. "I was glad to see that Warren Hagberg to let his boys run with us. El Camino has three of the finest shooters around," Purcell added.

"We were able to get our running game in gear tonight," the youthful South S.F. coach concluded.

Over on the otherside of the gym, Camino's Hagberg was pleased with his team's effort.

"I thought that the boys played exceptionally well," he replied. "Ackley and Swain did a good job. But you cannot deny this South City bunch; they can run and score with the best of them.

In the lightweight contest Harry Pitcoff's B's upset South City 58-53; Glen McCortie was high for Camino with 13 points.

South S.F. Tourney Foe Is Decided

The North Peninsula League champion South San Francisco High School Warriors learned their bracket and their first-round opponent in the Peninsula Basketball Tournament last night but the information was received too late for the Post's sports deadline.

It was learned Monday that PBT officials were to have seeded four teams (Lincoln of San Jose, Blackford, San Carlos and the Catholic Athletic League winner) into two brackets.

South San Francisco is then assured of meeting one of the top four clubs in the first round.

Other fives in the tourney include Hillsdale, Live Oak, and Buchser.

Games will be played at Stanford University's gymnasium on March 10, 11 and 12. Game times will be 4, 5:30, 7 and 8:30 p.m. all three nights.

All teams will play three games.

All eight leagues have decided with the exception of the CAL which will determine its titlist with its traditional four-team playoff this weekend at the University of San Francisco pavilion.

St. Mary's and defending PBT champ Bishop O'Dowd tied for the CAL's round-robin crown with 11-3 marks.

NPL Spring Sports Ready To Make Their Debuts

With basketball now finished and completed in the North Peninsula League (with the exception of South San Francisco) spring sports are ready to make their appearances on the prep scene.

Golf begins league play Monday with three matches spaced over the week. Powerful Westmoor is the defending champion.

Track and field teams hold their annual NPL Relays at Oceana next Friday afternoon.

League play for track opens March 25. The Westmoor Invitational, one of the standout prep events of the North County, will be held March 18.

NPL swimming teams will converge on South San Francisco's pool next Friday for the NPL Relays.

League play for the circuit's mermen begins March 17. The Warriors are the defending champs.

CSM Swimmers Begin Season

The College of San Mateo swim team got off to a good start for the 1966 season last week, downing College of Marin, 64-31, in Kentfield.

Don Gray paced the Bulldog natators with victories in the 50 and 100-yard free, plus a 51.3 sprint leg in the 400-yard free relay.

"I was real happy over the performance of our team as a whole for the first meet of the season," said CSM coach Rich Donner. "Over-all, we should have a stronger team than last year's runner-up to Foothill," he added.

Champions Dominate All-NPL 5

Led by South San Francisco's Jim Henry, the 1966 North Peninsula League all-league basketball team was announced Monday by the league's seven coaches.

Henry was joined on the all-star unit by teammates Greg Jones and Joe Smith, El Camino's Mickey Ackley and Jefferson's Willie Redmond.

All players but Smith were unanimous choices.

Henry was unanimously named the circuit's Most Valuable Player.

A second team of El Camino's Gordy Sanoff and Rich Williams, Terra Nova's Mike Duerloo, Westmoor's Tom Corcoran and Jefferson's Tom Pritchard was also named.

NORTH COUNTY SPORT SCENE

Ackley Edges Henry For NPL Scoring Championship

El Camino High School's Mick Ackley, after trailing South San Francisco's Jim Henry for the first five weeks of the NPL basketball season, won the strength of a 30 point outburst against Jefferson last Friday.

Ackley tallied 245 points to 242 for Henry. The Colt senior forward rang up a 20.4 scoring average to top the 6-6 Henry who came in at 20.2.

The Warriors' Greg Jones, the greatest point-maker in the history of his school, came in third with 233 digits and a 19.4 average. He was the defending league scoring champ.

All three players broke the NPL scoring record.

Jefferson's Willie Redmond, who finished second last year, finished fourth with 196 points and had a 17.8 average.

South San Francisco and Westmoor both won team titles: the Warriors won the offensive crown with a 78.3 average and the Rams took defensive laurels with a 43.7 mark.

South S.F. won its league games by an astounding average of 26.4 per game. SSF was 12-0 in league play.

"TWO CUPS OF COFFEE"

Tom Teshara: Kids' Mr. Baseball

By JOHN HORGAN

WHEN TOM TESHARA of South San Francisco got out of the Army in 1946 he decided to play professional baseball.

He got what he termed "two cups of coffee" — with Salt Lake City in 1947 and with Anaheim in 1948.

But Teshara's abiding interest in sports in general and baseball in particular never flagged for a moment. Now, Tom, who is Bay Area general manager for a dairy company, is recognized in the Industrial City as a moving force in youth activities.

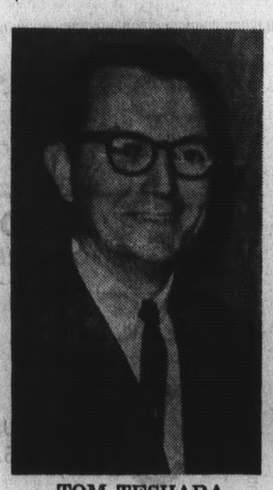
Teshara leads and participates in a myriad of jobs ofr the benefit of the youth of the city.

He is one of the founders of the annual Athlete of the Year Award which honors the outstanding athlete from the North County every year.

He is vitally involved with the athletic picture at St. Veronica's Catholic grammar school. Teshara is the school's athletic director. He also directs the Athlete of the Year selection, an award which is sponsorel by the St. Veronica's Men's Club.

As of January 21 of this year he is a scout for the United States Naval Academy. He covers the 15 high schools in the San Francisco-North County area.

He is also the South San Francisco director of the Pass, Punt and Kick contest which is a national affair sponsored by an automobile firm.



TOM TESHARA

However, Teshara's most comprehensive and time-consuming task (and surely his first love) is the South San Francisco Pee-Wee league.

THE PEE-WEE LEAGUE, which provides boys from 6 to 10 an opportunity to play baseball during the summer months, began in April of 1960 with 117 players.

Since that first year the program (which uses adults as pitchers and permits no walks—a player eight hits the ball or strikes out) has expanded into San Francisco and San Bruno to accommodate over 630 boys last year. Nineteen sixty-six is scheduled to be a banner year for the program.

"Watching the development of the Pee-Wee league is the most satisfying thing I have ever been associated with for youth," explained Teshara.

"We have formed a junior umpire association for some of the high school-aged graduates of the league. These boys work the Pee-Wee games for free and get good experience."

The league was franchised in 1962 by the National Baseball Congress as the youngest organized baseball league in the country.

Tom has sold the South San Francisco merchants on his program and they have seen to it that the boys were completely uniformed and insured.

The recreation department has co-operated by arranging diamonds on which the boys can play their games.

"The ACTIVITIES of youth are my favorite pastime," he exlaimed. His fellow residents of the North County city think so highly of his work that they have nominated him for two straight years for "Man of the Year" honors.

There is sound reason for that pair of nominations. But a mere listing of the man's activities and work hardly does justice to Teshara. For it's his overall attitude that makes him unique.

"The thing we are striving for here is sportsmanship and clean competiiton, a good combination of both."

A local product, Teshara has livel in South San Francisco for 11 years.

Born in San Frascisco, Tom attended Commodore Sloat Grammar School, Aptos Junior High School and Lincoln High School.

Working with boys comes naturally for Tom. His father (known as "Mr. T") was a boxing instructor and worked with the Columbia Park Boys Club in San Francisco for many years. He was also a Cubmaser for 28 years.

Tom's brother is a Scoutmaster in San Francisco.

Tom lives with his wife and two children in the Parkhaven district of South San Francisco.

TESHARA'S PROFESSIONAL baseball career might have been something of a bust but there are countless boys who are mighty glad today that his "two cups of coffee" proved bitter.

They might never have gotten their starts without him.

Jefferson Splits Two Final Tilts

El Camino High School's basketball team shares second place in the final North Peninsula League standings today, thanks to the prolific and late-game scoring of Mickey Ackley.

Ackley's offensive performance gave El Camino a 66-64 overtime victory over Jefferson last week in the season's finale for both teams.

Ackley socred 30 points for high game honors, garnering half his total in the fourth quarter and overtime period. Fittingly, he scored El Camino's winning bucket to highlight the best performance of his season.

Both teams finished second in the NPL race with final 8-4 records.

The host team Indians were hard-pressed to score a 52-50 victory over scrappy Terra Nova Wednesday.

Jefferson, a contender for NPL honors as recently as 10 days ago, came up with a 14-point fourth quarter to hang on for its eighth triumph in 11 league games. Terra Nova, whose improvement this year has been considerable, sustained its seventh loss in a dozen contests and closed out its year with the narrow defeat.

COUGARS 0-12

Half Moon Bay Drops Two More

Half Moon Bay High School has no place to go but up next year, their second season in the North Peninsula League. The Cougars closed out their first season of NPL basketball last week the same way they started it—with a loss. They dropped a 60-32 contest to Westmoor, also won the class B contest, 81-36.

It marked the 12th defeat in as many outings for Half Moon Bay, and the seventh win in 12 games for the Rams. Westmoor also won the class B contest, 81-36.

The Rams offset sloppy defensive play by meshing the net with long outside shots, using the subs and first stringers interchangeably after midway through the first quarter. Tom Corcoran led the Rams with 11 points.

The defensive play of Bill Houston highlighted the Cougars' losing effort.

Oceana High School, exploding for 17 points in the third period, nabbed their second North Peninsula League win of the season last week with a 54-47 victory over Half Moon Bay.

Coach Rich Warne cleared the bench in the contest, with 11 Sharks getting into the scoring column. Leading the Oceana team were Tim Shershan with 16 points, followed by Joe Miller with 14 markers.

Bulldog 9 Ties Laney College, 5-5

College of San Mateo found a way to tie a ball game without any hits last week, but couldn't quite solve the secret of winning it.

The Bulldog nine played Laney College of the East Bay to a 5-5 eight-inning deadlock on the College Heights diamond.

Trailing 3-0 going into the bottom of the sixth inning, the Mateans tied it up with three tallies on four walks and a wild pitch.

Laney scored twice more in the top of the seventh frame to go in front, 5-3. The Bulldogs then rallied to tie it again when Bob Burrill and Jerry Sullivan walked, and then came home when the Laney pitcher threw the ball into right field.

Henry, Jones Lead Warriors

Jim Henry and Greg Jones, South San Francisco High School's two prolific scorers, take a brilliant pair of per game averages into next week's Peninsula Basketball Tournament.

In 20 games this season the 6-6 Henry has hit for 416 markers for an average of 19.8 per game.

Jones, the leading marksmen in the school's basketball history, has played in 18 games prior to the tourney and has totaled 362 points for a 19.0 average.

The pair led their club to an 18-2 season's log going into the eight-team Stanford-based affair.

Bulldog Golf Season Starts

A veteran and a rookie led the qualifying for College of San Mateo's golf team, which should enjoy improved depth this season, according to Coach Ray Balsey.

Joe Ward, one of Balsey's key returning lettermen from last season, tied Tom Jensen with a five-round score of 363.

Louanne's Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

WITH THE arrival of Lent, rainy weather and the flu epidemic the social pace on the northern peninsula has slowed to a crawl, so this week's news is a little on the slim side.

Members of the Golden Gate Kindergarten Association Auxiliary are planning a "Raise the Roof" party tomorrow at the Pheobe Hearst Pre-school Learning Center now under construction at Laguna and Ellis Streets in San Francisco.

According to Mrs. Selmar J. Monro, the Peninsula's lady in charge of publicity, a station wagon alfresco lunch will be served to members and special guests who will be dressed for the occassion in overalls and other work clothes.

The day is being planned as a kick-off for a month of fund raising activities, co-chairmaned by Mrs. Owen Kellog and Mrs. Gene McMurchy. The drive will be staged because additional money is needed to complete the new building. Opening date for the center is hopefully set for April.

Mrs. Monro reports that the Golden Gate Kindergarten Association Auxiliary, the sponsoring organization, is inviting San Mateo County women to become sponsors for a donation of 10. Sponsors will be listed in a commemorative booklet at the dedication ceremonies, and they will be guests at a champagne party planned for the opening day.

Tax-deductible contributions, which would enable the auxiliary to achieve its April opening goal and offer nursery school education to needy and deserving children, may be mailed to Mrs. Robert Erickson, 214 Twenty-eighth Avenue, San Francisco, Mrs. Monro reports.

FAMILIAR FACES missing from the local scene now include those of Mr. and Mrs. James Madden and their children, Sandy and Jimmy.

The Maddens (she has been one of the long-time members of the Daly City Community Chorus and the Belletones) moved to their newly-completed Marin county home last Friday.

THIS WEEKEND will be a big one for members of the local unit of the California Association for Childhood Education!

The association will hold its annual study conference in San Francisco on Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Hilton Hotel. The Daly City unit is serving as the hospitality committee.

Mrs. Mary Wade od Daly City will be in charge of the localites as teachers and others interested in the education of children under 12 meet to begin a eries of classroom visitations. Twenty-seven San Francisco schools engaged in compesatory education, regular classroom teaching and special program classes will be visited.

Rabbi Alvin Fine will be the keynote speaker on Saturday morning. The breakfast session will be followed by a morning of study session, luncheon meetings and more study sessions during the afternoon. The conference will close after a breakfast gathering on Sunday.

In addition to Mrs. Wade, Miss Marjorie McLeod will be in chrge of the visitations section of the conference. Mrs. Peggy Wolcott of Palo Alto and Mrs. Joy Hestrand of Santa Cruz will be directing the hostesses.

With the close of the California conference, Mrs. Wade and her board of executive officers will have to begin preparations for the Daly City area ACE elections coming up next month and the white elephant sale scheduled for the May meeting.

THOUGH THE members of the Pacifica Fifty Plus Club keep up a lively pace no matter what the weather, the first springtime trip is being planned for June 10, according to Life Line, the monthly news bulletin from President Edna Laure Calhan.

The members will be going to San Diego for four days and three nights. The bus will take the coast route to Long Beach the first day, then continue on to San Diego the second day, visiting Sea World, Balboa Park and the old Mission.

THE BOY SCOUTS of Troop 63 are urgently requesting loans or donations of sleds, toboggans and other snow play paraphanelia for their up coming snow trip.

According to Mrs. Lawrence Rogers of Westlake, the boys lack many of the necessities for this type of outing and will appreciate and take good care of anything given or loaned to the pack. Donors are asked to call Russell Fredrico, PL 5-8337.

MEMBERS OF the Aplha Iota business sorority held their monthly meeting and social gathering in the apartment of Miss Marie Clinton last evening. Mrs. Leonard Wolowic presented preliminary plans for the annual mother-daughter luncheon.

THE QUESTION, "Is Total School Integation a Religious Moral Obligation"' will be the topic discussed by Dr. Samuel Schaaf, president of the Berkeley Board of Education, and Richard Bancroft, immediate past president of the NAACP, when the Judaeo-Christian Brotherhood, the South of Mount Davidson Ministerial Alliance and Temple Baptist Church sponsor a panel seminar this evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Temple Baptist Church, 3355 Nineteenth Avenue.

Dr. E. Kemp Fredrick, principal of Mission High School, will be the moderator of the panel which will include 16 distinguished leaders from various sections of the community.

This series is offered to all residents of the area free of charge and the public is invited to attend and to speak out during the gathering. Equal time is promised to both sides of the issue, according to John Keast, publicity chairman for the series.

According to Keast, the next panel seminar will discuss the question "Should Red China Be Admitted To The United Nations." So plan now to attend at least one of these provacative sessions on world and national affairs.

Fashion Show Warmup

Dinner and Dance Planned Mar. 19

Temple Judea Sisterhood is taking reservations for its annual Progressive Dinner Dance Saturday evening, March 19.

Music for dancing and listening pleasure will be provided by the Don Carle Orchestra. Reservations are being accepted by Helene Heisler at WY 2-2122. Reservations close March 15.

Sisterhood Program Chairman Nancy Colvin has announced that Rabbi Bernard Ducoff, an affiliate of the Bureau of Hebrew Education, will be the Sisterhood speaker Tuesday, March 29.

Rabbi Ducoff's topic will be announced later. The event is scheduled for 10:15 a.m. in Fellowship Hall of the Temple on Brotherhood Way.

This year's Sisterhood's Donor Luncheon will be held in the Pavilion Room of the Fairmont Hotel Tuesday, May 3. Yetta Bressman, chairman, said "Lamplighters" will perform.

A Flavor Change

Slice a small onion thin and cook it with green peas — fresh or frozen. Good flavor change — if your family likes onion.

A Cup For Each

When you are making a tossed salad, count on a cup of greens for each portion even when there are such extra adtions as cucumber.

Thinner Crust

The top crust of a pie may be rolled slightly thinner than the bottom pastry.

Buri Buri Women's Club Welcomes New Members

The Federated Women's Club of Buri Buri in South San Francisco has welcomed new members.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Roger Ericson, membership chairman, called on the new club members and their sponsors to come to the front of the audience, and each sponsor pinned a corsage on the new members, including Mrs. Rita Mowen, Mrs. Frank Bregante, Mrs. Gladys Banchero, Mrs. Jeanette Agresti, Mrs. Lois O'Connor, Mrs. Emil Holtz, Mrs. Walter Ruff, Mrs. Naomi Guarisco, Mrs. John Janakes, Mrs. Barbara Whitmore, and Mrs. Henry Morris.

Mrs. Lloyd Cottrell and Mrs. Leroy Phipps related some of the past history of the Federated Buri Buri Women's Club from its beginnings 17 years ago.

The members of the group, led by President Mrs. Howard Hinmon, were presented white carnations.

The 27 members incorporated from the Buri Buri Club were Mrs. Margaret Lamperti, Mrs. Betty Finlayson, Mrs. Millie Sutherlin, Mrs. Doris Baillie, Mrs. Dorothy Erion, Mrs. Rose Tull, Mrs. Jennie Dragges, Mrs. Edna DeLarios, Mrs. Eleanor Loorya, Mrs. Marilyn David, Mrs. Ruth Tripp, Mrs. Marge Wirgler, Mrs. Lila Blalock, Mrs. Inge Mehan, Mrs. Marguerite MacDonald, Mrs. Judy Cole, Mrs. F. Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

THIS WEEK'S recipes came to me in the most delightful way possible, I attended a dinner and the hostess was kind enough to share them with me. This generous sharer is Mrs. Frances Cohen, who lives at 1501 Thirty-fourth Avenue, in San Francisco.

Spanish food is a great favorite of mine and both of these dishes were delicious. But I must warn you who are not fond of highly seasoned food that this first recipe for Mock Chilie Rellenos is very hot. If your family likes food hot with chilies then by all means make this one, for it's very good.

MOCK CHILIE RELLENOS

- 3 cans green peeled chilies
- ½ lb. Monterey Jack cheese
- 1 small can tomato paste
- 1 can chicken rice soup
- ½ can water
- ½ cup bread crumbs
- ½ medium onion, chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- ½ tsp. parsley
- A pinch of oregano
- 3 tbsp. oil
- 3 eggs

In preparing the chilies, remove all the seeds, if possible, and insert cheese strips inside. Arrange in oiled baking pan.

In frying pan place oil, add the onions and garlic and simmer until soft, not brown. Add the can of tomato paste, chicken rice soup, ½ can of water, oregano, parsley and salt to taste. Simmer ten minutes and pour over chilies.

Beat eggs, pour over the chilies and sauce, lastly top with the crumbs. Do not mix. Bake in 350-degree oven, uncovered, for 35 to 45 minutes.

This dish can be prepared ahead and placed in refrigerator. In this case put bread crumbs on just before baking.

YOU WILL FIND this chicken with rice is a pleasure to cook and serve. The chicken cooks to just the right tenderness in the pan with the rice and sauce and the blendings of the seasonings makes a dish to remember.

This is not a highly seasoned dish, so it will appeal to those who prefer a milder seasoning.

POLLO CON ARROZ

- 3 lbs. frying chicken
- 1 cup olive or salad oil
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- ½ cup celery, diced
- ½ cup celery diced
- 1 cup fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 1 small clove garlic, minced
- 1 cup canned tomatoes
- 1 teaspoon salt
- pepper, to taste
- ¼ teas. paprika
- 1 cup rice (regular not instant)
- 2 cups stock or chicken bouillon

Fry the chicken in oil for one half hour. Remove from skillet and place in a large casserole with fitted cover.

In the same oil fry, onion, garlic, celery, green pepper and sliced mushrooms, simmer until tender and add the tomatoes and seasonings. Simmer for five minutes, add the rice and stock or bouillion and stir well.

Pour all this over the chicken in the casserole. Cover and bake in 350-degree oven for 40 to 50 minutes or until rice is tender.

THIS DISH, served with French bread and a tossed green salad makes a wonderful dinner. Do give it a try.

Hillside Names Officers

Pacific Heights Group to Present Special Program

The Pacific Heights P-TA will present a special program, "Our Changing Values," on March 10, at 8 p.m.

A distinguished panel has been assembled: Dr. Seymour Cain, consultant on Religion to the Encyclopedia Britannica; Dr. Otto Butz, Professor of Interdisciplinary Studies, San Francisco State College; and Dr. John Batrus, Consultant Psychologist to the Laguna Salada and Jefferson Union High School districts.

These gentlemen will discuss the problem of changing values as it affects our lives in guiding our children from the social, moral and environmental viewpoints.

This program is a joint meeting with members of Portola, Westview, and Pacific Heights P-TA participating.

The public is cordially invited to join in this stimulating, informative evening.

The school is located on Pacific Heights Boulevard and Colby Way, San Bruno.

Crocker-Pershing Plans Elections For Tuesday Night

Tuesday night will be election night for the Crocker-Pershing P-TA. The place is Crocker School multi-use room at 8 p.m.; to be elected are the unit officers for 1966-67.

The nominees are: president, Mrs. Andrew Ynostraza; vice president, Mrs. Millie Pederson; recording and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Emmitt Galvin; treasurer, Mrs. John Sillivos; auditor, Mrs. John Laiosa; historian, Mrs. Joseph Jang.

Nominations will be accepted from the floor at this meeting.

Mrs. Emmitt Galvin, program chairman, announces the program for the evening is an adult film on smoking entitled "Who Me".

The guest speaker will be a doctor from American Cancer Society.

All people interested in this subject are invited to attend the showing of this film.

Refreshments will be served immediately following the program with the first grade mothers as hostesses.

Washington Unit To Hold Meeting

The next meeting of the George Washington P-TA will be tonight at 8 in the multi-use room of the school.

The meeting is titled "Goody Goody." Mrs. Louise Fletcher, Home Economist for the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. will talk about cooking indoors and out.

Full color slides will be shown and complete menus and recipes will be distributed after the program. Girl Scout Troop No. 296 will lead the pledge to the flag.

Candy will be sold before and after the meeting by the ways and means chairmen.

Pecan and Cheese

When you are serving cottage cheese with a fruit salad for lunch, it's an interesting texture change to add some chopped pecans to the cheees.

Spatula Size

A wide spatula for kitchen use should be about the size and shape of a pancake turner but more flexible and thinner.

P-TA Events

Westmoor Awards Life Membership to Pair

In honor of Founder's Day, the Westmoor P-TA has awarded memberships to Mrs. Jack R. (Mona) Baker of 844 Beechwood Drive, Colma, and Alfred O. Belotz of 177 Westdale Avenue, Daly City.

In making the announcement, Al Smith, Founder's Day chairman and former P-TA president, commented that the committee had selected two people who had been active in working for the betterment of the community both within and outside the schools.

Culminating five years on the executive board with the presidency of the Westmoor P-TA this year, Mrs. Baker has taken an activt part in community activities since her family's arrival in Daly City 12 years ago. The mother of two boys, who have come through the Daly City school system, she used her journalism background to serve as a volunteer consultant in educational television on the elementary school level.

A graduate in journalism from the University of Montana where she met her husband, who was studying pharmacy, Mrs. Baker has been a Daly City columnist and produced the television show, "Salute to Daly City."

She also has produced benefit fashion shows and served as commentator. As a member of the board of directors of the Daly Citp-Colma Chamber of Commerce, she has worked on the chamber's Daly City-Colma business directory.

Alfred Belotz, certified public accountant, moved to Daly City in 1952 and opened his office in Westlake a year later.

The father of three children, he has been active in the Boy Scout movement for 25 years. He also has served on committees for Temple Judea on Brotherhood Way.

Belotz is an alumnus of Vallejo and Golden Gate Colleges. He has used his accounting background in serving the United Crusade for six years.

He also has served on the Parents Advisory Council of United Cerebral Palsy and the Easter Seal Campaign.

Another fund raising job was serving as a block chairman for Mary's Help Hospital.

Active in both the Daly City Rotary Club and the chamber of commerce, Belotz was finance chairman of the Citizens' Bond Committee for the Jefferson High School District.

Edison Honors Husband, Wife

Mr. and Mrs. Emile Tenud of 1374 Southgate Avenue, Daly City, have been awarded honorary life memberships from the Thomas Edison School P-TA.

The award represents the first time that a husband and wife has been selected for the honor.

Mrs. Jack Reynolds, chairman of the Honorary Life Membership Committee, made the presentations.

B'nai Israel To Hear Talk From Jewish Chairman

Marshall H. Kuhn, Congregations Division chairman for the 1966 Campaign of the Jewish Welfare Federation of San Francisco, Marin County and the Peninsula, will speak in behalf of the drive at Congregation B'nai Israel, on Friday evening.

Kuhn, will stress the importance of the current campaign drive to support 36 health and welfare and educational beneficiary agencies here and abroad.

Kuhn, who visited countries in Europe as well as Israel, will give a first hand report on his observations and experiences of the liberation of Jews in many European countries particularly those behind the Iron Curtain.

Kuhn who is active in many community and civic affairs is also vice chairman of the Federation's Social Planning Committee.

Perfect Custard

To keep a skin from forming on the top of that soft custard, cover the surface closely. Soft custard should be refrigerated before it's served and if any is left over.

Girl Scout Week Begins Sunday With a Service

In Daly City the start of Girl Scout Week will begin Sunday with a Girl Scout service, to be held at St. Martin's Church, 777 Southgate Avenue, from noon until 12:30 p.m.

This Girl Scout service, under the direction of Rev. Richard F. Fowler, will follow regular Sunday service and will be open to all Girl Scout Troops in Daly City.

Girl Scouts and their leders are cordially invited to attend in a troop and in full uniform and bring troop flags.

This service will be a rededication of each Scout to the promises and laws of the Girl Scout organization.

Mrs. James Hendrickson, products chairman for the Westlake Area Neighborhood, announces that the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale will start Friday and continue through March 21.

Girl Scout Cookies are 50 cents per box, the individual troop keeps 5 cents per package for troop uses such as craft materials, and service projects.

The San Francsico Bay Girl Scout Council receives 25 cents for the Area camping and training programs.

Pacifica Nursery School to Hold Open House Fete

To help observe Nursery Education Week, the Pacifica Co-operative Nursery School invites parents and pre-school children to an open house program in a quonset hut in Pomo Park at Carmel and Lassen Streets in the Sharp Park district of Pacifica.

Children may sample toys, paints, clays, dress-up clothes and outdoor climbing and pedal equipment that are part of the school program.

Enrollment in the school is open to youngsters 2½ years old to kindergarten age.

Parents will meet the school director, Mrs. Ella Rechnitzer, who supervises children and is assisted by the parents of the children who attend the nursery school.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Wilson Zehr at 359-1336.

Twenty-six Westmoor High seniors are State Scholarship semi-finalists.

Arthur S. Marmakuke, executive director of the California State Scholarship Commission announced the list of semi-finalists whose entries were based upon weighted scores on the S.A.T. tests.

The semi-finalists are Virginia R. Jones, Gregory F. McHugh, John L. Wildman, Steven J. Zweig, Richard Laherty, Rayme Lictenberg, Wendy L. Morrison, Susan Ertola, Kenneth Freiberg, Christine Fotenos, Kris Peerand, Deborah Skootsky, Timothy Herbert, William Baron, Eloise Gordon, Michael Vasquez, John Lanthier, Susan Stavish, Evelyn Zanders, Sue Irby, Alana Silva, Christine Kamp, Roxanne O'Brien, Janis Bell, Gail Kuwamato, and Russell Baird.

An official transcript including the seventh semester grades must be sent to the commission prior to March 10.

'Fig Leaf Morality' Discussed

People too often practice "fig leaf morality," a minister told a Brotherhood Week luncheon gathering in Daly City Friday.

The Rev. James Smith, a Baptist minister working with minority groups in the Bay Area, said many people talk about trying to help ease minority group problems but offer a variety of excuses for not actually taking action.

The luncheon was sponsored by the Daly City Ministerial Association and was held in the new temple of Congregation B'nai Israel in Colma.

Reverend Smith was introduced by the Rev. Howard Bryant of Second Baptist Church in Daly City.

Other speakers included Mayor Francis Pacelli of Daly City. The master of ceremonies was the Rev. H. Hansel Stembridge of Westlake Community Baptist Church.

Missionary To Indians Sets Talk

The Rev. Wally Olson, missionary to the Chippewa Indians of Northern Minnesota, will be the guest speaker at the final program of a series of missionary services at Westside Baptist Church at 7:30 Friday night.

The program will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Pollock Sr., of 2440 Bantry Lane, South San Francisco.

In his missionary work, Reverend Olson travels by boat, airplane, ski, snowshoes and car to Indian tribes in the northern part of Minnesota.

At the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday, the Rev. A. David Donnelly, pastor, will begin a series of messages on stewardship. His sermon topic will be: "These three."

Bethlehem To Present Film

The movie, "Martin Luther," will be shown at Bethlehem Lutheran Church at 8 p.m. Sunday, according to the Rev. George S. Johnson, pastor.

The full-length motion picture has been acclaimed as one of the greatest contributions of the century in helping people to understand the Protestant Church, Reverend Johnson noted.

Bethlehem Church youths are sponsoring the event and will serve refreshments after the film showing. Steele Spengler will be in charge.

Lenten services are being held each Wednesday evening at Bethlehem at 7:30. Guest Lutheran pastors are speaking on "Personalities Around the Passion."

Talks Planned At Peninsula

"Eight Little Devils and a Furnished Apartment" is to be Walter Stram's 11 a.m. message Sunday at the Peninsula Church of Christ in Olivet Chapel at Hillside Boulevard and "F" Street in Colma.

"The Prince of Peace" will be the topic of his message at 6 p.m.

Christian Youth Schedule Rally

Youth for Christ of Greater San Francisco will hold a rally at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the War Memorial Auditorium in San Francisco.

Welfare Federation Aide To Address B'nai Israel

At its Friday evening services at 8:15, Congregation B'nai Israel will host guest speaker Marshall Kuhn, congregations division chairman for the 1966 Campaign of the Jewish Welfare Federation of San Francisco, Marin County and the Peninsula.

He will speak in behalf of the drive. Hostesses for an Oneg Shabbath after the services will be Mrs. Henry Fuhs, Mrs. Ernest Hartmann and Mrs. Morrey Krow.

The Bar Mitzvah of Mark David Friedman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Friedman of Daly City, will be held at services at 10 Saturday morning. A kiddush will be held after the services.

The president of the congregation, Gary Kroner, announces that arrangements have been made to hold a traditional Passover Sedar at the templehouse on the second night of Passover, Tuesday, April 5.

A complete Sedar service will be held conducted by Rabbi Solomon Shore and the traditional meal, which will be kosher, will be served. Further information and reservations may be obtained by calling PL 5-8926 or PL 5-3442.

The teachers in Sunday School will present a Purim play for the children of the religious school Sunday morning, at the templehouse.

Church Hosts Baptist Aide

Nina Booth of the Sunday School Department of the American Baptist Convention has visited the Westlake Baptist Church and Sunday School to make recommendations.

Teachers and officers of the Sunday School remained at the church for lunch and discussion under the leadership of Miss Booth. Subjects discussed were the curriculum of the Sunday School, the teacher-pupil relationship, the church-family relationship and responsibilities.

Miss Booth pointed out the necessity of Sunday School teachers being on the church premises before the appointed hour for Sunday School.

Earlier, in a brief talk during the morning worship service, Miss Booth said that the teaching ministry of the church had been neglected.

Pupils Will Sell Candy

In an effort to secure about $1,000 necessary to help send two of their classmates to Israel this summer, Temple Judea's high school students will sell candy door-to-door in the Sunset district of San Francisco Sunday. Chocolate candy bars will be 50 cents each.

Harold Kapkin, son of George and Roberta Kapkin of 40 Monterey Drive, Daly City, will celebrate his bar mitzvah at Temple Judea Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

Temple Judea will hold a special Purim Service at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Sisterhood To Publish A Cookbook

"Sugar and Spice and Those Who Are So Nice," is the caption of a page to appear in the forthcoming cookbook, "The Koch Leffel" (literally translated: "The Stirrer Upper"), to be published by the Sisterhood of Temple Judea.

Favorite recipes from many cultures will be included in this publication as well as a page devoted to the male chef-aspirant.

Cooking demonstrations of the recipes to be incorporated in the book were held and samples of the items were made available to all.

The cookbook will go on sale mid-March and will sell for $3.

Copies will be available at the Temple office. For further information, contact Mrs. Ann Ight, PL 5-7790.

Society Sets Sale of Hats

The Women's Mission Society of the First Baptist Church of Linda Mar, Pacifica, will hold a hat sale with the newest spring styles and colors Friday and Saturday, March 11 and 12, at 1379 Linda Mar Shopping Center, next to the Bank of America.

The shop will be open Friday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

There will be a selection of handbags available.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase a Bible for the communion table and a file cabinet for the pastor's study.

Lenten Sermon Is Planned

The third in a series of Lenten Spiritual Crusade sermons will be delivered Sunday by the Rev. Charles F. Arnold, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pacifica.

The topic of the 11 a.m. sermon will be "The Choice of a Traitor."

WINDOWS BROKEN

Rose Marie Tracy of 40 Avalon Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had fired BB's through five rear windows.

Bethel Unit Plans Sale

The Ladies of Bethel Church of Pacifica's Women's Missionary Council will hold their annual Rummage Sale tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

The sale will be held at the Old Auto Parts Store next to the Linda Mar Pharmacy in the Linda Mar District of Pacifica, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday.

Proceeds will go toward the purchase of items needed by Bethel Church.

Terra Nova Topics

THINGS ARE BACK to normal on the TN campus after last week's period of insanity.

It was Spirit Week, and if possible, more zesty than last year's. All the classes put an all-out effort to win the cheer jug.

Starting last Wednesday with Crazy Day, students wore zany garmets according to their class (seniors wore crazy hats, juniors crazy clors, sophomores crazy shirts, and freshmen crazy socks).

On Thursday students came as their favorite movie or television characters and the campus abounded with Batmen, Combat squads, F-Troopers, Beverly Hillbillies, Munsters, and even Cleopatras, just to mention a few.

Even a few teachers joined in the fun, including dignified TN speech coach Mr. Brownstone in a blazing red-plaid sports coat, a big 1940 print tie, and tennis shoes!

On Friday each class wore its special colors (seniors—white; juniors—black; Sophomore—gold, and freshmen—red). Class skits were presented at a special rally.

All through the week classes united with signs, spirit, and loudness to voice class cheers during brunch and lunches.

TERRA NOVA'S F.B.L.A. (Future Business Leaders of America) both hosted and conquered the Northern California Conference at TN on Saturday, February 19.

Out of competition with over 350 students from 31 schools, TN seniors Barbara Thielen and Eric Butler placed tops as Miss and Mr. F.B.L.A., Marie Papadakis and Linda Schuyler grabbed first for their publicity book and first,

Second, third, fourth and fifth places were also made and Cathy Hickman in typing competition.

Second, third, fourth and fifth places were also makde by Terra Novans in public speaking, essay, spelling, shorthand, parliamentary procedure, and vocabulary.

Cultural Program Planned

Sponsoring members of the Pacifica Association of Performing Arts have laid plans for cultural offerings to Pacifica.

P.A.P.A. expects to provide monthly performances throughout the winter and spring.

The program committee is outlining a varied program, including chamber music, barbershop singing, a puppet theater, a children's instrumental band, vocal and instrumental soloists.

DOG STOLEN

James Kolbem of 608 Schwerin Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had stolen a toy Maltese dog from his home.

Puny Man Still Licked By Fog

MAN WITH ALL his technological and scientific accomplishments is still licked by blankets of fog which cover a large part of the country periodically.

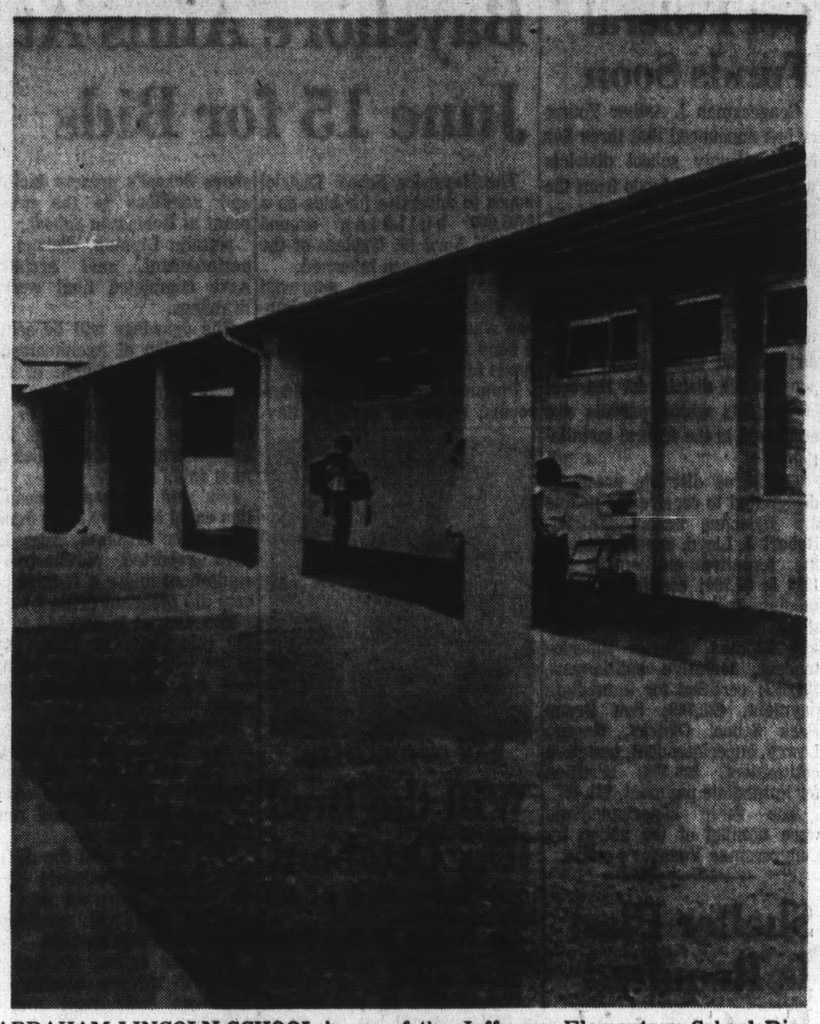
Huge trucks and sleek automobiles slow down from normal speed to less than a turtle's crawl. Giant planes are grounded and ships come to a standstill or inch through channels.

Main highways have white lines, but every driver in rural areas will testify to the need of better guides for intersections and on the feeder routes. Once a driver leaves a principal thoroughfare he's nearly blind and creeps along mostly by instinct. A familiar tree on the side of the road may keep him clear of a culvert or a light in a house may be his "lighthouse" to keep him form the shoals.

BUT GENERALLY there is a lack of adequate signs that will warn a driver when he is approaching a particular corner, or when he is dangerously near the shoulder of a road.

A man behind the wheel of a super car realizes only too well, as he crawls through a fog, that despite the latest in automotive engineering and modern science in highway construction, he is still a puny creature at the mercy of nature.

Abraham Lincoln School



ABRAHAM LINCOLN SCHOOL is one of the Jefferson Elementary School District's grammar schools. It was built in 1960. The first principal was Dr. Lloyd Andrews. Seven classroom additions have been made since the school was built. The new principal is Edward Mosconi. The school is located at Lincoln and Southgate Avenues in Daly City. There are 681 students at the school now. (Post-Times Photo)

Lively Time On The School Front

Don Miller

Everytime things appear to be slowing down a bit on the local news scene, you can almost guarantee that some sort of eruption will occur on the school front.

Our schools, being as closely intertwined as they are with our communities and our daily routine, are watched with keen interest by us all.

Anytime a new proposal, a development or a startling report comes out of the local school district, it makes news. And anytime the public foregoes the living room television routine to vent its feelings at a board meeting, the news really starts to jump.

That, of course, is the current state of affairs here in the North County where a report from a citizens' boundary study committee has evoked an uproar in the Jefferson Union High School District. The report was first presented at a board session February 7 in Oceana High School.

In essence, it recommends that some 600 students from Westmoor, now considered too crowded, be transported to Jefferson and Oceana.

Now, once you start proposing to change school boundaries and all the tradition and sentiment that are associated with an area and its local school, you're bound to create a stir. Only the stir in this case has mushroomed into a roar.

We don't exactly envy the station of district trustees and Supt. Ed Morgan (who was to present his own recommendations on the committee's report Monday night) at this point. But however it all comes out, it can be safely said that the local news front is far from quiet right now. It's absolutely jumping.

THE NORTH COUNTY isn't alone on the school uproar scene. Down in Millbrae, a first class donneybrook is in full flower over a decision to establish a continuation high school (for drop-outs) on the city's civic center property.

The San Mateo Union High School District will erect portable buildings on the site to house the school. However, neighboring residents have protested they don't want the school there and their vehement objections have been backed by two former Millbrae mayors.

As the situation stood late last week, one of the former mayors had threatened to institute a lawsuit to block the school and officials of the high school district said that if this happened, the continuation school would be moved to the campus of Capuchino High School.

DOWN THE Peninsula, another controversy has been boiling for some time in the Palo Alto Unified School District over a proposal to rebuild Palo Alto High School.

Four plans have been presented to date and the principal issues are whether double sessions can be avoided during construction and where to locate the new school on the present high school campus.

The controversy is in stark contrast to the relatively smooth transition that accompanied the rebuilding of Jefferson High School. One of the Palo Alto plans calls for demolishing the present school and erecting a new one on the same site —which was the type of plan Jefferson trustees went ahead with.

Jeff got by without double sessions although because of building delays, some students at the start of the current school year attended classes in makeshift quarters in the gymnasium. (The rebuilding program was hard hit by vandalism but this did not significantly slow construction.)

THEN, TOO, on a more lofty administrative level, we are now witnessing a fresh—and somewhat surprising—battle over school unification in the county.

The County Committee on School District Organization last week refused to call an election on three unification proposals (one of them would unify the area comprising the Jefferson High School District) and County Supt. of Schools James R. Tormey promptly announced he would call the election himself.

The background to this tempest revolves around the state's refusal to approve three committee unification proposals and the state's subsequent appointment of a review group to recommend three plans. All three (for Jefferson, San Mateo High and Sequoia) then were approved by the state.

The county committee said it wanted to wait and study "possibilities" before setting an election date—all this in the face of an opinion from the district attorney's office that the committee MUST set an election date this year and that the election would have to combine with the June 7 primary.

IT'S A LITTLE difficult to conceive what "possibilities" could possibly be considered in the light of such a black and white legal opinion and we get the impression that the committee's refusal amounts to a large serving of pique on the unification platter.

Whether this controversy and all the spirited debates that accompanied county committee meetings in the past three years will spill over into the June election is a subject for speculation at this time.

However, we would say on the basis of the last public meeting on the unification issue here in the North County (the review group's session at Westmoor February 1) that the public seems to have wearied of the see-saw course that unification has taken to date.

From the largely solid support given the state-approved plan to unify the Jefferson High School District at that meeting, it would appear the community has made up its mind.

But then, as these things on the school scene go, a new eruption could occur at any time and what looks like "go" for unification now might become "stop" at primary time in June.

The Marquee

'The Chase': 'Hard-Hitting'

Barbara Bladen

ON THE THEORY that if he didn't leave anything out, if he exploited every possibility and overwhelmed his audience with shocking, brutal drama, Sam Spiegel produced a hard-hitting, unforgetable movie in "The Chase," opening soon on the Peninsula.

Unforgettable only because of the brutality it imparts. We've never seen such a beating as Marlon Brando gets from three blood-thirsty thugs. Somehow, and I doubt if unintentionally, all the bad memories of Kennedy's assassination come back to give impetus to this Technicolor spectacle of lawlessness, immorality and senseless hatred in a small Texas suburb.

Director Arthur Penn knows about anger and frustration. We saw how he used these emotions to dramatic purpose in "The Miracle Worker." Now he has given them full vent, and his characters erupt on the screen with larger-than-life passions.

Writer Lillian Hellman is a writer of forceful characterizations. We saw her portrayal of people seething with anger and frustration in "The Little Foxes." There's a lot of that in her screenplay based on Horton Foote's novel.

Most of the people in this corrupt town are sociologically sick. Fraught with overtones of Peyton Place, most of the leading citizens are trading mates instead of green stamps and the merchandise is all used with bad results.

You name it, "The Chase" has it. Bigotry (flagrant to the point of hunting Negroes on the main street), adultery (love has nothing to do with it), religious fanatacism (this has no bearing on the story but was thrown in to make the degregation complete) and injustice. Then add murder, pride, fear, drunkenness (one can almost smell the fumes with this one) and cheapness.

The film starts out suspensefully and slowly disintegrates into melodrama. It moves at an exciting pace when Robert Redford, as a young escaped convict who always gets blamed and punished for things he didn't do, heads back to his home town.

THE TOWNSPEOPLE are plenty scared, especially individuals who feel he may seek revenge upon them. His wife (Jane Fonda) has been having an affair with wealthy oilman James Fox but comes to his aid when he contacts her for help. They put up a desperate battle for survival when, after a drunken, lustful Saturday night, the townspeople and the agitated teen-age population converge on the trio's hideout and resort to such brutality and cruelty that one leaves the theater in a state of silent shock.

Brando is excellent as the sheriff who tries to save the the convict's life by protecting him in jail, away from the clamoring crowds. He offers the boy protection when he sees the town erupting into a hate riot. Angie Dickenson, as his wife, also underplays the melodramatic situation and the two emerge as believable, compassionate human beings surrounded by animalistic malcontents.

Miram Hopkins plays an hysterical and guilt-ridden mother of the hunted boy and resorts to overacting as the action gains momentum. E. G. Marshall's character of a millionaire oilman who can't communicate with his spoiled son isn't fully realized. Janice Rule, as the town tart (married to a weak and ineffectual husband, a respectable banker) couldn't possibly or believably fool her husband, his boss, their friends or me in her obvious lust with Richard Bradford as the bank's vice president. It's an unsubtle role that Miss Rule plays to the oversexed hilt.

MARTHA HYER, Jocelyn Brando, Henry Hull, and Diana Hyland contribute to the potpourri of corruption.

It's not a pleasant picture. It could have been a better picture. But it's got guts, although shown to exaggeration and extreme. As I say, Brando and Miss Dickenson are especially good.

"The Chase" is full of surprises and plenty of brutality. If it shocks anyone in the audience to recognize himself in any of the characters, it can be counted among the important pictures. Otherwise it is strong on action and acting talent and weak as a social commentary.

Better Business

Chain Sales Scheme Exposed

Lorene Beasley

AN ENDLESS chain sales scheme is currently sweeping the country wherein customers are promised commissions on sales made to customers referred by them and, in turn, additional commissions on sales made to customers referred by referred customers. The activities of such firms who advertise products from A to Z but actually sell nothing but distributorships, operate on a mathematically impossible principle, similar to chain letters and pyramid club schemes.

One mathematician calculated, that in order for a referral selling plan operating in his area to keep going, each distributorship would have to enroll 5,368,709,120 persons every 31 weeks! This astronomical figure of 5.3 billion can be compared with the world's population of 2.1 billion.

Marketmakers, Inc., of Beverly Hills, has been the subject of many inquiries to the Better Business Bureau. The scheme of Marketmakers, acting as national distributors for Hydrolife Whirlpool Baths, made by the Royal Appliance Manufacturing Company of Cleveland, has been condemned by Attorney General Thomas Lynch and is under a preliminary injunction in the Superior Court for Los Angeles County.

The company has been barred from misrepresenting its product or the profits to be made from its marketing plan. The Attorney General is asking the court to order restitution to "investors" and fines of $2,500 for each case of false advertising.

"FOR EACH new member they bring in, investors are promised $50 or more." Attorney General said, "As with any pyramid operation, Marketmakers is based totally on a need for continual new members. We have estimated mathematically that if it were to operate for six months — paying every investor all that is promised — it would need 38,000,000,000 members."

The Attorney General has also temporarily halted all activities of three Bay Area "get-rich pyramid-type schemes. The Bureau has received many inquiries from potential investors concerning the firm, Methods Bay Area, Inc., and its parent company, Methods International of Los Vegas, both advertising recliner-type massage chairs.

The distributorship for this chair sells for $300, plus a $12 monthly charge for leasing the vibrator chair. Instead of selling, the investors were promised fantastic profits for signing up new distributors by canvassing friends and neighbors.

The other two firms ordered to stop advertising and doing business until the February 25 hearing are H. M. Action Unlimited Inc., of San Francisco, and Sonic Systems of Los Angeles, which promoted a stereotape recorder program and, Trans-World Dynamics of San Francisco, a sleep teaching operation.

It is estimated that these firms during the past two months have netted their promoters approximately $500,000.

IT IS THE belief of Chief Postal Inspector H. B. Montague that "such schemes are in violation of Postal Fraud Statute 18 USC 1341, when use of mail is involved" and already two "endless chain" schemes have been the subject of successful fraud prosecutions.

Promoters of a particularly vicious referral plan who specialized in selling fire and burglar alarm systems at inflated prices to elderly widows and spinsters, received sentences to serve from six and four years, respectively, after postal inspectors had accounted for mail fraud losses exceeding $50,000.

POSTAL authorities accounted for 600 complainants who paid $422,000 to Columbia Enterprises, Inc., promoters of a built-in vacuum cleaner system on a chair referral plan.

Salesmen made false promises that the purchaser would not only earn the full cost of luxury items he could not afford but additional large fees were easy to earn by referring friends and relatives as possible customers.

They promised commissions of $100 for each referral sold on the same plan. Signed contracts were then sold to a finance company which collected the full amount, often at a great sacrifice to the victims.

Letters to the Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

On February 7th while everybody's attention was directed to the High School District Board meeting, the Jefferson Elementary School Board approved $200,000 Bond monies to build a warehouse.

As a worker on the School Bond election I resent this action. A Fact Sheet on our school needs was given to the workers on the Bond election as well as being printed in your newspaper. Nowhere on this Fact Sheet did our District indicate that they were even considering building a warehouse.

Certainly a building of such cost should have been mentioned to the people. The Elementary School District submitted to your newspaper plans for the new Junior High School, and pictures were shown depicting the overcrowding at Benjamin Franklin School but nothing throughout the whole Bond campaign was said about the need of a warehouse.

It is also quite true that Benjamin Franklin School will have to absorb an additional one hundred students next September (Our new Junior High hasn't even been started as yet.) This can only be done by increasing the class size load which is already staggering.

It is my opinion that if the District has $200,000 to spend on any structure, they should spend it on the building of additional classrooms so that our children might receive the benefit of a successful School Bond election.

The District's current warehouse is located on the old Thorton School property and with the Unification election date set for June 7th there seems very little reason to even consider building a $200,000 warehouse.

Certainly a structure of that size will encourage overstocking of supplies and the employment of more people just to maintain it.

This warehouse was placed on the agenda and marked action item. Our Superintendent was away on business, Mr. Douglas was absent and Mr. Perry voted no, and yet $200,000 of our School Bond money will be put to use in this way.

I would like to remind the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees that the people of Daly City and Colma, even though staggering under the re-assesments and the Elementary Districts' own tax increase, still put the needs of their children first.

I think that it is high time that the Jefferson Elementary School District did the same.

Mrs. Edward Plant,
365 Lakeshire Drive,
Daly City.

Books Can Alter Lives

Samuel Chandler

IN 1848 Robert Browning wrote a poem about Sibrandus, a man who threw a book that had aggravated him into a hole filled with rain water, worms and slugs, and waterbeetles.

Then he went indoors, brought out a loaf, half a cheese, and a bottle of Chablis." When his meal was over he lay down to forget "the oaf" who had written the book.

But he couldn't forget. All night he lay awake thinking about the things he had read. By morning he knew that book had changed his life. He fished it out of the hole and dried it out.

Even though the ink had run and the pages had curled, he carried it into his house and placed it among his treasures. As he learned from his experience, good books are powerful. They move men to action.

A volume describing New York City's futile attempts to complete a tunnel between Long Island and New Jersey stirred a youthful William Gibbs MacAdoo to action.

Although a penniless attorney, shortly arrived from Tennessee, he raised five million dollars, then formed a company of engineers and finished the famous Holland Tunnel.

A BARREL of law books in a pile of discarded household furniture came to the attention of a clerk in the only store in a rustic village. He devoured them, then passed the state bar and went on to become a successful attorney, and the President of the United States—Abraham Lincoln.

A penniless urchin from Ireland happened into the Library of the Royal British Museum, where a new world opened to him. With the guidance of the books he read there, and the librarians who helped him, he learned and wrote until the world acclaimed him as one of the great playwrights of all time. He was George Bernard Shaw.

Good books are powerful. They inspire men to new heights. In my native state a freeway will follow a road laid out over a hundred years ago by a man named Parley P. Pratt.

In 1830 he was content as an itinerent preacher and a small plot farmer. Then a book fell into his hands that changed his life. As a missionary he traveled on four continents; as a builder he helped to lay out cities in five states; as a writer he published three books of his own; as a pioneer he guided infant settlements in Utah and California.

A BIBLE in the hands of one of the mutineers from the good ship Bounty changed a hell on earth to an earthly paradise.

A cart full of chosen volumes provided Napoleon with relaxation and cleared his mind so he could plan his battles. Tradition records that he was troubled before the Battle of Waterloo and had no book to read.

Sometimes people wonder if more visual means of communication will make books obsolete.

The answer is no. TV moves our minds and stirs our curiosity; books supply us with more knowledge.

Television makes Samuel Johnson's observation more true today than in his day. "When we are moved to inquire into any subject, the first thing we have to do is learn what books have treated it."

Trustees To Decide On Site Names

San Mateo Junior College District trustees, beginning to wrestle in earnest last week with their problem of campus names, came to general agreement on two points.

No matter what names are selected for the district's new north and south campuses, scheduled to open in the fall of 1968, College of San Mateo will remain College of San Mateo.

And the decision on what to call the Coastside campus, for which land was purchased last year, will be left for some future board to make when the site is developed in the late 1970s or early '80s.

Beyond that, however, the trustees concurred at their regular meeting at College of San Mateo, they are not yet ready to advance.

But the board's president, Eleanore D. Nettle, alerted the other four members to "do their homework" on the remaining question of north and south campus names and be ready for her "call for action at our next meeting" on March 9.

It was Mrs. Nettle who paved the way for accord on leaving College of San Mateo's name as is.

Commenting on a faculty committee's suggestion that one unifying pattern of names for all four campuses might involve the repetitive use of the words "College of San Mateo," with the present campus then being renamed, for example, 'College of San Mateo, College Heights Campus," or "College of San Mateo, Central Campus," she said:

"To change the name of this college would be a great mistake. At the same time, I think we would be misguided to attempt to put the new campuses all under the 'College of San Mateo' banner, to call them by such names as 'College of San Mateo, Skyline Heights Campus,' and 'College of San Mateo, Oak Knoll Heights Campus.'

"We all have a great personal attachment to this campus. But that attachment was formed in the yesterdays, and we must remember we are building our new campuses for the tomorrows. Each of the new colleges will need to find its own identity under its own name."

Trustee Robert A. Tarver agreed. "We've already decided that the new colleges will be as autonomous as possible," he said. "Any unified name approach certainly wouldn't do anything to encourage that autonomy."

Tarver said he personally liked another of the faculty committee's ideas which would place the emphasis on names with historical connotations, such as "Sanchez College" or "Ortega College" for the north campus, and "Arguello College" or "Fair Oaks College" for the south.

But he conceded: "It's just a thought; I'm not wedded to it, by any means."

Trustee U.S. Simonds Jr. carried the reference to the past one step farther, saying he tentatively favored confining the choice to the "old Spanish names that have local meaning and real romance."

Most dubious of all the trustees was Francis W. Pearson Jr. "Frankly," he said, "I don't particularly like any of the names proposed."

Dr. Bortolazzo reminded the board that "Skyline College" for the north campus had met with much favor among college personnel, and that previously suggested additional historical names which might be considered for the south campus are "San Raymundo" and "Portola."

Trustees Do Double Duty

Trustees of San Mateo Junior College District last week agreed to do "double duty" for the next three months.

Instead of meeting their normal six times during that period, they'll hold a total of 12 meetings, so that the north and south campus construction projects can move ahead on schedule.

Dr. Julio L. Bortolazzo, college president, told the trustees the extra meetings will be required to review architectural proposals and to discuss budget and bidding plans.

In order to open the two new campuses as timelined, in September, 1968, both jobs must go to bid this year, he said.

Actual completion is expected to require about a year and a half.

D.C. 'Reserves'

TOGETHERNESS is the watchword of Mr. and Mrs. James M. McCraney, of Daly City, both members of the 9602nd Air Force Specialty Training Squadron based at Fort Miley. Cocker Spaniel Heather is also an Air Force fan.

It's (The A.F.) All in Family

WHAT DOES a wife do when her husband joins an Air Force Reserve unit?

Mrs. Janice McCraney solved the problem by signing up with the same outfit.

Mrs. McCraney, a master sergeant, and her husband, James, a major, are members of the 9602nd Air Force Specialty Training Squadron at Fort Miley.

They began their military careers during World War II —he with the Army Air Corps, she with the Coast Guard.

Major McCraney later transferred to the Air Force, while his wife joined the Navy Reserve.

When they were married in 1952, the inter-service tradition continued. The marriage was an Air Force ceremony, performed at an Army post, Fort George Wright at Spokane.

FOR THE NEXT two years, Mrs. McCraney stayed at home. Athough she maintained her status as a Naval Reservist, there was no organized reserve group in Spokane.

In 1954, the couple moved to their present home at 43 Park Manor Drive in Daly City—and finally got together in one branch of the service.

They have been members of the Air Force Reserve almost ever since.

The only interruption came last year when Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ordered the disbanding of Fort Miley's 9635th Recovery Squadron, to which the McCraneys belonged.

Major McCraney promptly switched to the Specialty Training Squadron, but his wife became a civilian.

Soon, however, she was back in uniform.

"When the recovery squadron disbanded," she said, "my husband began attending classes at the new reserve unit and I felt left out."

BETWEEN THEM, the McCraneys have compiled 41 years of military service.

Her duties now are in the reserve squadron's personnel section. His entail attendance at a training class, which deals with communications techniques valuable to the Air Force in time of emergency.

The McCraneys spend one Saturday each month with the reserves.

During the week, he is a communications engineer with the State Public Utilities Commission.

Mrs. McCraney spends her "off-duty" time in housewife tasks.

THE McCRANEYS have no children but their "family" includes Heather, a lady cocker spaniel who is herself no stranger to military life. When Master Sergeant McCraney recently spent two weeks on active duty at Fort Miley, Heather went along, too!

"Jim and I have always enjoyed the same things," said Mrs. McCraney, "but I'm a housewife first."

And to dispel any doubt, she added, "He's the boss in our family always—not just on reserve Saturdays when he outranks me."

Program for Disadvantaged Planned for Summer School

A new plan for helping disadvantaged young people "with a common heritage of failure, defeat and discouragement" to succeed at College of San Mateo was outlined last week to the board of trustees.

The experimental project — still in the formative stage— would involve bringing 30-40 June graduates from Ravenswood, San Mateo and perhaps Jefferson high schools to the college campus during the summer for remedial studies, coupled with intensive counseling and tutoring.

"It is the intent of the program," said Dr. Julio L. Bortolazzo, college president, "to help these students achieve better skills and greater understanding of college life and opportunities during the summer months.

"The percentage of failure at CSM for disadvantaged students is extremely high (70-90 per cent) and can often be traced to insufficient academic preparation and initial bewilderment in a new situation."

The plan, which would cost the district an estimated $10,000 if approved by the board when formally submitted, would be aimed largely at Negro and Mexican-American students who would otherwise, according to Philip C. Garlington, either never try for a college education or "fail to survive the first semester."

"It would be our hope," added Eric Gattmann, summer session co-ordinator who has spearheaded arrangements for the program, "to keep College of San Mateo's open door from being a revolving door for these young people.

"We feel this idea has great potential, not only for the students, but also for the college and the community it serves.

"If the initial experiment succeeds, perhaps we can take it from there on a larger scale. But no guarantees can go with this program, except that we will guarantee to do our very best."

He pointed out that although San Mateo County is generally regarded as "exceedingly affluent," there are 8,500 families living here with incomes less than $3,000 a year.

"It is the youngsters in these families we wish to reach," Gattmann said. "We know many of them have great potential, but unless they are assisted to find the way in education, they are very apt to succumb to their common heritage of failure, defeat and discouragement.

Some preliminary experimental work already is under way at the college with tutoring of disadvantaged students by CSM honor students and with greater emphasis on counseling.

In addition, three students are currently enrolled at the college under a Stanford University plan which pays them to attend, gives them bonuses for good grades and finds them part-time jobs.

One of the three, Reginald Peebles of East Palo Alto, told trustees how he had been helped to overcome his past educational deficiencies and encouraged to keep on trying, so that he now has a solid B-minus average and is planning to transfer to University of California, Berkeley, at the end of his sophomore year in June.

"I want to be a teacher," he said. "My ambition is to be able to add to the community, instead of living off the community."

Stanford's Dr. Bernadine V. Allen pointed out that students like Peebles who succeed, despite past educational and cultural handicaps, will serve as models to their hometown friends of what can be accomplished.

"College of San Mateo is regarded as a flunk-out school in East Palo Alto," she said. "People like Reggie can change that picture. They can encourage—by their example — other young men and women from their community to come here."

Dr. Bortolazzo, who long has been an advocate of an increasingly vigorous CSM role in assisting the disadvantaged, with support of the board, said he heartily subscribes to the "ounce" of prevention approach, rather than the pound of cure."

He said the summer program is being worked out in cooperation with educators at the high schools involved, and with community groups.

Schools To Get Federal Funds Soon

Congresman J. Arthur Younger has announced that three San Mateo County school districts will be receiving funds from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare because they are federally affected areas.

These areas are those in which there are federal installations which pay no local taxes to the district and these grants compensate the district for the cost of students whose parents are employed in the federal installation.

The three districts presently designated to receive the grants are Brisbane School District, Robert J. Lloyd, superintendent, the tentative entitlement for 1966 is $4,230; certified for immediate payment, $3,172; Bayshore School District, Natalie Lipman, district superintendent, tentative entitlement, $27,692; certified for immediate payment, $20,769; San Bruno Park School District, George Lawry, superintendent, tentative entitlement, $28,583; certified for immediate payment, $21,437.

The three superintendents were notified of the action by Congressman Younger's office.

Shelter Plan Is Required For Coastside

The City of Pacifica will be required to complete or to have begun a community bomb shelter plan by June 30, 1968, if it wishes to receive financial assistance from the Federal Office of Civil Defense.

This directive was presented at a Civil Defense and Disaster Council meeting in Pacifica, by assistant deputy director Francis Peters.

He described Pacifica has having no community fallout shelters at present, and said that "the prospect of acquiring any substantial shelter space in the near future is rather slim."

Peters said that under the Federal Defense Act, over $32 million has been provided towards study and plans for community fallout shelters.

Since some provision will have to be made in the community, Peters said that he and Pacifica Fire Chief Ed Greer will study steps necessary for protection of residents.

A report was also given at the meeting on the quarterly siren CD outdoor warning test held last month. The Fairmont, Pacific Manor, and Linda Mar Fire Stations tested their sirens and all schools in the district sent a description of audibility.

Peters described two vacancies now existing in the local Civil Defense Office: a Director of Medical and Health Services, and a Nurse Co-ordinator. Dr. David Brown of San Bruno has resigned due to the "token service" he has been able to give because of a heavy work load.

THEFTS REPORTED

Linda Marsch of 241 Hillcrest Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had stolen drums, a radio, band equipment and miscellaneous household items from her home. She estimated the value of the items at $349.

BUILDING PROGRAM

Bayshore Aims At June 15 for Bids

The Bayshore School District hopes to advertise for bids on a $495,000 building around around April 15, trustees of the district have been informed.

The program was approved by district residents last October when they voted 319-54 for a bond issue that would provide funds for construction.

Planned are additional classrooms, repair of some of Bayshore School's present facilities and additions to the present plant at Robertson School.

Natalie Lipman, district superintendent, said architects have completed final working drawings.

The drawings will be sent to the Division of Architecture in the State Department of Education for review.

The state is expected to take from four to eight weeks looking the drawings over, Miss Lipman said.

She said she hoped construction could begin by early June.

In other business, Miss Lipman reported purchases of equipment under a federal poverty aid program (Title I.)

The district is entitled to $8,600 this year. Of this, about $5,000 will be spent on salaries and the remainder on equipment.

Bayshore was one of the first school districts in the county to qualify for poverty aid funds. Equipment being purchased will be used for speech and remedial reading classes.

Miss Lipman said the district next year will allocate all of its poverty program funds to salaries and will supplement this with its own moneys.

In other action, trustees decided to discuss teacher salaries at their next meeting March 8.

Teachers will be invited then to present their requests for the next fiscal year. They have been meeting with the administration on salary proposals.

Last year, Bayshore teachers received a six per cent pay boost.

In other business, the trustees:

Approved a report from its auditors, Peat, Marwich & Mitchell Company.

Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Joan Ostermann, a fifth grade teacher at Bayshore, because of illness. Mrs. Ostermann had been with the district seven years.

Approved the 1966-67 audio visual contract with San Mateo County for $465. The county provides films and slides under the contract.

Approved the hiring of Priscilla Pitzer, who will teach the first grade at Midway School.

S.S.F. High Reunion Set

A committee composed of South San Francisco Police Chief John Fabbri, Mrs. Bob Fontana, Mrs. Robert Minucciani and Mrs. Angelo Riccardi is planning for the twentieth year reunion for the South San Francisco High School Class of 1946

The event is scheduled for May 7 at the New Southern Restaurant with a no host cocktail hour beginning at 6:30.

Members of the 1946 class who are interested in obtaining further information can contact Mrs. Angelo Riccardi, 772 Cottonwood Avenue.

CITY BURGLARIZED

Daly City police reported last weekend that a thief had struck at the city's own corporation yard. The burglar walked away with the instrument panel from a city-owned dump truck.

Red Faces At Headquarters

The faces were a bit red at Daly City Police Headquarters last week.

Motorcycle Officer James Sunderland said he parked his cycle in an alley next to headquarters, went inside and when he returned, he found that his riot baton and citation book had been stolen.

Still Chance For Adults To 'Shape Up'

Jefferson Union High School District adult physical fitness programs are still being offered by the district's evening division.

Five posture and exercise classes for women are open at Westmoor, Jefferson, and Terra Nova High Schools. There is also a physical fitness section for men at Westmoor Wednesday evenings, conducted by Westmoor football coach Pete Matisi.

The ladies will learn postural exercises and rhythmic activities, and learn to develop coordination, strength, flexibility and agility.

Matisi's course deals mainly with physical conditioning and body building, correction of minor postural defects and related health problems, and will include volleyball and other skill games.

The district also offers a first aid course, which began February 3 and will continue until March 31 on Thursdays in room 204 at Jefferson.

The course covers accident prevention, emergency treatment, resuscitation, transportation of the injured, and home emergencies.

A certificate will be issued upon satisfactory completion of the course.

For details concerning these courses, prospective students may inquire at the district office or any district school.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

The Cause of Cavities—
The cause of cavities is not known, but most dentists agree sugar is considered as one of the possible factors. This is not the whole answer, but it is important to remember that if we are going to face facts, we may have to limit the sugar in our diet for the sake of our teeth. The problem is a great one. Among sugar containing items are many of the fruits, fruit juices, and vegetables. Even skimmed milk contains about 5% sugar. The list is almost endless, and includes such things as cookies, candies, soft drinks, pies, cakes, ice cream, jams, jellies, etc. Ask your dentist about the amount of sugar permissible for the health of your teeth.

Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Fire Razes Pacifica Landmark

FIREMAN carrying ladder races to help check flames at the historic Mori's Point Restaurant in Pacifica. The two-story structure, built in the last century, was destroyed in the fire, which broke out shortly after 6:30 Friday evening. TV Antenna Approved By D.C. Planners

Residents of Westlake Terrace in Daly City finally will get good television reception after more than five years of fuzzy pictures.

The Planning Commission last week approved an application of the California Cable Communications Corporation to construct a relay antenna complex on city-owned reservoir property between 813 and 827 Skyline Drive.

The firm holds a franchise from Daly City.

The antenna was originally planned for the top of the reservoir, a site most people agreed would be least conspicuous.

After the city engineering and water departments objected that a tank-top tower would present maintenance problems, plans were altered and a 38-foot free-standing tower was proposed.

But the planning commission balked at the tower, and neighborhood residents, armed with a 180-signature petition, attended last Wednesday's hearing to ask reconsideration.

City officials had already reconsidered, and after conferring with cable company executives and homeowners had agreed to return the antenna to the top of the reservoir, where, they said, it will be barely visible from the ground.

It was felt, explained City Planner Edward Lawson, that "the technical problems can be overcome more easily than could the esthetic problems."

John Burgess, vice president of the cable firm, said that the antenna equipment would be mounted so as to be easily moved for work on the reservoir.

Burgess also assured residents that the tower would present no interference with other reception in the area, and that inconspicuous wires would be strung along existing poles.

Attorney Michael Rourke, of 839 Skyline Drive, presented the homeowners' petition and told the commission that he personally had no objection to the revised plan.

Commission Chairman Richard T. Dwyer praised the cooperation of the homeowners, the cable company and the planning staff — calling it "a good example of what community action can do."

In other action, the planning commission approved an application for a rental car agency at 403 Eastmoor Avenue, and approved applications for interior illuminated signs at 6512 Mission Street and 151 87th Street.

Coast Zone Law Tested— Lot Variance Is Denied

Pacifica's new zoning ordinance was tested for the first time at last week's council meeting. Denial of a lot variance was upheld upon the recommendation of City Attorney Conrad Reisch.

Councilman Fred Ballew made a motion to deny a variance on three lots in the San Pedro Terrace Subdivision for Charles F. Halling who was appealing a Planning Commission decision of February 7.

He had requested that 75 feet of frontage be subdivided into two lots. Halling said that an existing structure used 36 feet and he planned to build another home on the remaining 39 feet.

He contended that two sewer pipes had been installed in 1959 on the assumption that the lot would be split in two. The property was originally subdivided in 1939.

Mayor James Fox wondered if the city did not have a "moral responsibility."

Reisch stated: "The sewer laterals (pipes) in no way preclude the city from enforcing the zoning ordinance. You had better be consistent. If you grant this variance, others are going to come in. There is no legal reason requiring the city to grant this variance."

Planning Commissioner Al Rosenberg stated that the planning commission felt that the upgrading of the subdivision was essential to be in accordance with other lots in the area.

Approval was given by councilmen for printing 1,000 copies of the new zoning ordinance in looseleaf booklet form. They will be sold at $5 each.

Heart Attack Blamed For Auto Crash

A San Francisco man was pronounced dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital last Friday afternoon, after his automobile went out of control and crashed in Daly City.

Antonio L. Cavalli, 62, of 218 29th Atreet, suffered a heart attack, according to a spokesman for the coroner's office.

Daly City police said Cavalli's car struck a stop sign at Hillside Boulevard and Lisbon Street, then careened across the intersection and hit a street sign, a stop sign and a mail box.

The auto came to rest after ripping out 15-feet of chain-link fence.

Officers said no other cars were involved.

Double-Taxing Ends

Police District Lots De-Annexed

Owners of some 400 Daly City lots won't be paying a double tax for police protection this year—thanks to a state law passed last year and action by both the city and a group of private citizens.

Since the annexation of their property by Daly City, the landowners had been paying a tax to both the Broadmoor Police District and to Daly City. The Broadmoor tax had been 41 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Before annexation, the district had provided police protection. Now it's provided by Daly City.

In September of 1965, the Legislature passed the District Reorganization Act. It would allow the Broadmoor Police District to divest itself of land annexed by a municipality.

The district's board of commissioners petitioned the county's Local Agency Formation Commission for withdrawal—or deannexation of the 400 lots. The commission has jurisdiction over annexation proposals.

After a hearing, the commission approved the move and after a hearing of its own, the Broadmoor district formally adopted a resolution, de-annexing the lots.

The resolution was mailed December 31 to the State Board of Equalization, which previously had informed Daly City officials that if the resolution was postmarked prior to midnight January 3, double taxation would, in effect, be eliminated starting this year.

Daly City Attorney Paul Hupf said the city had asked the board of directors of the Broadmoor district to initiate the de-annexation move.

He said a private action for de-annexation by the owners of ten similarly affected lots was allowed to follow the same course rather than be combined with the Daly City backed move.

Increase In City Lease Plans Told

Even though it may cost more, lease financing of municipal projects ranging from golf courses to civic centers is becoming increasingly widespread, a group of Peninsula mayors and councilmen was told last Thursday.

The speaker was James Rafferty, San Francisco financial consultant who addressed a meeting of the Peninsula division of the League of California Cities at the Olympic Club in San Francisco.

Despite controversy over lease financing, said Rafferty, "Its growing acceptance is recognized by many cities and counties."

The main advantage, he explained, is the fact that lease financing can be approved by a simple majority of voters, while the traditional general obligation bond method requires a two-third majority.

It is this "unrealistic" two-thirds vote requirement, Rafferty said, that has led to the increased use of lease arrangements.

As an example, he cited Sonoma County, where voters in five separate elections failed to give proposals to build a new courthouse the necessary two-thirds vote — even though the measure did win simple majorities, and once got a 61 per cent yes vote.

Supervisors there finally arranged for lease financing.

The way it works, said Rafferty, is this:

The city or county involved leases land to a private, non-profit corporation, which builds the building and leases it back to the municipality. Under terms of the arrangement, payments to the corporation go to a trustee and are used to pay off the costs of the building. At the end of a set period, title to the building is given to the government, which has owned the land all along.

Costs are higher under lease financing, Rafferty admitted, because general obligation bonds have lower interest rates.

Another argument against the method, he pointed out, is the charge that it "circumvents" the two-thirds vote required by law. In answer, he noted that "in most Eastern cities a public vote is not necessary" to incur indebtedness, and that the federal government regularly goes into debt without consulting the taxpayers at all.

Berkeley Model U.N. Is Attended By Ram Group

A model United Nations weekend was held and a total of 120 schools, including Westmoor High School attended.

Twelve hundred students took part in the program held at the University of California at Berkeley. Representing the country of Chile, eight delegates from Westmoor High School participated.

These were several committes, including the Security Council and General Assembly. Another was the Special Political Committee, which discussed the Jordan River Crisis.

This committee was attended by Senior Kris Peerand. The Political Security Committee was attended by senior Rick Silver. This committee dealt with neutralism of Southeast Asia, and discussed vital issues pertaining to Viet Nam.

The UN also had the Social Cultural and Humanitarian Committee meeting attended by senior Suzette Eby. Two other committees formed were Outer Space, in which John Wilder took part and Chapter Revisions attended by Jim Wilder.

President of the Junior Statesmen, Evelyn Zanders headed the Chilian delegation. Miss Zanders had resided in Chile for a number of years and provided a wealth of material to the delegation. Assisting her were Rayme Lichlenberg and George Mueller.

On Friday afternoon and evening, the various committees met and each passed at least one resolution. The resolution regarding Red China was killed. The Security Council would not recognize Red China as a nation, since the Model U.N. supposedly represents the membership of the real United Nations and follows its policies as closely as possible.

The high school repeesenting Red China tried to take the seat of Nationalist China. Two Chinas were trying for the same seat. Red China was not voted in and Nationalist China resumed its seat.

United States representatives vetoed the resolutions of the Dominican Republic, as they did not recognize the country as a "sovereign nation."

A representative for the Dominican Republic made a speech, asking for the removal of the U.S. troops and OAS troops from the Republic. Brazil, Uraguay, and Nicaragua agreed to the removal of OAS troops, while the United States troops, while the United States refused.

The Special Political Committee passed on resolution that both Jordan and Israel supported. Then at the General Assembly on the third day, Jordan announced that they did not wish to support the resolution because Israel supported it as a state and Jordan does not recognize Israel as a state.

Both the U.S. and the Soviet Union opposed the resolution set up by that committee.

Political Security Committee passed a resoltuion that asked for a conference, similar to the Geneva Conference, be held with representatives from both North and South Viet Nam.

Since Chile belongs to the OHS, Westmoor's representatives met with the other Latin-American nations. A committee of agencies and countries was set up to help one another in the time of major disasters in different parts of the world. The nations also gave their pledge to the United Kingdom.

This model U.N. is sponsored by the U.C. Political Science Department in order to give Bay Area residents a broader understanding of foreign relations and acknowledge the political view points of countries othe than their own.

Westmoor attended the model U.N. as Indonesia last year, while they represented the observing nation, West Germany, in 1964.

Teaching assistants, graduate students and professors from the University held the offices of secretary general, president of the general assembly, and president of the security council.

4 Westmoor Pupils Are Given Honor

Four Westmoor High School students, Chris Fotenos, Sue Irby, Larry Baker, and Timothy Herbert, have recently been awarded Honors at Entrance to the University of California in Berkeley.

Several years ago the university decided to give recognition to those applicants who did exceptionally well academically at the high school level.

Besides being honor students the two girls, Chris Fotenos and Sue Irby are active in school activities.

Chris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fotenos of 51 Westdale, is a member of the rally committee as a pep girl and a potential life member of California Scholarship Federation.

Drama student Sue Irby, who participated in the San Francisco Drama Workshop last summer, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn J. Irby of 936 Wildwood Avenue. She too will become a life member of C.S.F.

Both Timothy Herbert and Larry Baker are active in sports. Tim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Herbert, of 739 Thornhill, is a baseball and football player and president of C.S.F.

Larry, who plays football and basketball and is a member of C.S.F., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Baker.

Registration Campaign Set In Daly City

April 2 has been set as the start of an intensified voter registration drive in Daly City to be conducted by a group of citizens.

The group held an organizational meeting Thursday night in the library of Benjamin Franklin School in Daly City.

Mrs. Marve Milton of 98 Westmoor Avenue, spokesman for the group, said members had "blocked out" the city into 14 districts.

She said drive officials will enlist the help of Boy and Girl Scout groups to call on homes.

In addition, student groups at Jefferson and Westmoor High Schools will be requested to volunteer their services.

Mrs. Milton said that Mrs. Margaret Becker, would be in charge of setting up voter registration tables at markets.

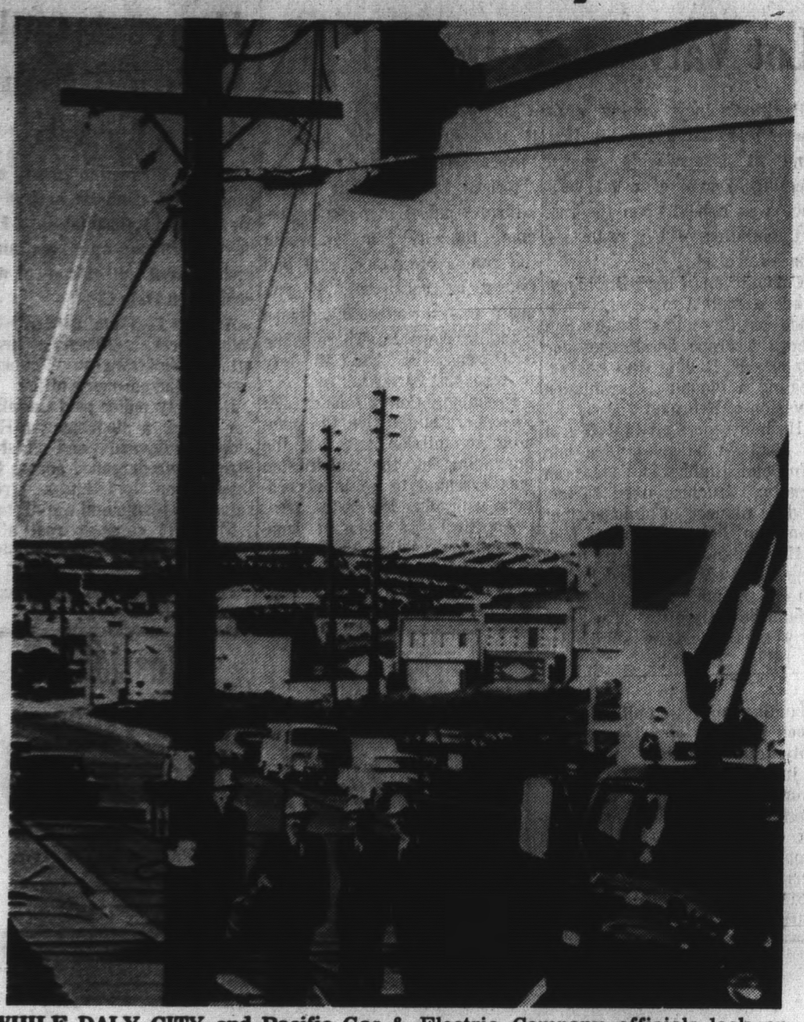
New D.C. Facility



WHILE DALY CITY and Pacific Gas & Electric Company officials look on, PG&E workers begin installation (top of photo) of new mercury vapor lights in the area east of Junipero Serra Boulevard. City plans to increase the brightness of 679 street lights in this area in a program scheduled to be completed in August. In the next budget year, councilmen will consider improvement of lighting in the area west of Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Jeff Band Honored

Eagle Scouts Of 1965 To Be Honored

Some 150 boys who attained their Eagle rank during 1965 in the San Francisco Bay Area Council and their 150 businessmen sponsors will gather in the Colonial Ballroom of the St. Francisc Hotel for the annual Eagle Scout Banquet at 6:30 tonight.

Main speaker will be Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, president of the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena.

An expert in space research, Dr. DuBridge will speak on "The Exploration of the Moon are the Planets," according to Robert H. Gerdes, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, who is chairman of the banquet.

The Most Rev. Joseph L. McGucken, Archbishop of San Francisco, will deliver the invocaton.

New Road To Mary's Help About Ready

Mary's Help Hospital, waiting patiently for a new path to her front door, won't have to wait much longer, a Daly City official as indicated.

The extension of Sullivan Avenue from its present terminus at Eastmoor Avenue to the hospital is expected to be completed this week, according to Arthur Reschke, Daly City engineer.

The $200,000 project has been delayed about 2½ months — mostly because of the rains, Reschke said.

Originally, the city hoped to complete the extension in time for the hospital dedication, which took place December 18.

The city will conduct a ribbon-cutting ceremony to open the new portion of Sullivan, Reschke said.

Ultimately, the street will connect with an extension of Southgate Avenue to Junipero Serra Boulevard.

The Southgate project is planned for later this year.

Sullivan has been completed in "rough" form to the point where it will intersect Southgate.

Advice, Tests Available For Jeff Adults

Counseling and advisory opportunities for prospective students of the Jefferson Union High School Adult Education Division are available for the spring semester.

A unique course being offered in the area of testing for guidance is Vocation Guidance and Counseling, which offers group testing in the area of vocational interests and aptitudes, as well as basic psysiological and psychological skills and abilities, with an eye toward investigating general areas which an individual can consider for employment.

The regular staff of trained advisors is available to assist students in program planning, and in the selection of courses to meet the requirements for a diploma or college entrance.

Advisor hours are 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday evenings until March 18.

Also available are General Educational Development tests designed for persons 21 or older, who may use them to satisfy certain elective requirements toward a high school diploma.

A schedule of the tests is available at the Jefferson district office.

D.C. FIREMEN

Residency Rule Change Proposed

Daly City firemen again asked the city Thursday to relax its residence requirements.

At a hearing before the Daly City Personnel Board, the firemen suggested that Lincoln Boulevard in San Francisco and San Bruno Avenue in San Bruno be considered as possible north-south residence limits.

The city now requires its employes to live within Daly City. Both the fire and police departments in the past have asked that the requirement be relaxed.

Fire Chief Herbert Ritzmann said his department has had difficulty retaining personnel and attracting new firemen because of the requirement.

The request to ease the rule was one of a number of requests included in a package presentation by firemen.

The Personnel Board is holding a series of hearings on requests from all city departments.

Firemen also asked that a cost-of-living wage increase be granted and that their uniform allowance be raised from $60 to $125 a year.

Last year, firemen received a five per cent wage boost, plus a 3½ per cent cost-of-living increase that was granted to all city employes except administrative personnel.

In another presentation, the Fire Department's three battalion chiefs asked for a raise from a range of $801 to $928 monthly to $841 to $973. They also asked for a uniform allowance increase from $60 to $150.

A boost in wages also was requested for captains. Firemen explained that the differential between the top pay of a fireman and the top pay of a captain is only 10 per cent while the average in neighboring departments is 15 per cent.

Chief Ritzmann, in addition to asking for the residency relaxation, requested that his salary be boosted "so as to be comparable with other like positions in Daly City . . ."

Ritzmann's salary is $1,152 a month. The police chief's salary is $1,251.

The Fire Department requests had been submitted previously to the Personnel Board by letter, according to Ray Letsinger, personnel analyst for the city.

When the series of departmental hearings are concluded he said, the board will weigh the requests and submit a recommendation to the City Council.

Building Code Hearing Will Be Re-Opened

Pacifica city councilmen have agreed to re-open a public hearing on the uniform building code, which they had hoped would be adopted at last week's council meeting.

Residents last week protested the code's requirement of a building permit for any improvement costing more than $10.

Councilman Harland Minshew said that there was "ambiguity in what you mean by improvement."

"How much improvement can you do at that cost?" Guy Collingwood of Rockaway Beach asked.

"I'd hate to get a building permit to paint my house," stated Councilman Don McMannis.

"Although the permit applies only where there is a structural change, how do you tell the difference between that and decoration?"

Paul Seldis of 770 Rockaway Beach wanted to know if the city was getting "hard up."

City Engineer Kenneth Thompson remarked that South San Francisco and San Bruno have a $10 minimum fee but added that "it would be ridiculous to try and enforce it" in many cases.

Councilwoman Grace McCarthy added that Pacifica was a community where residents had a great number of skills and they should not be discouraged from working on their homes to improve them.

Coast Lodges Bus Protest

Pacifica councilmen last week voted to lodge a protest with the Public Utilities Commission after hearing of a Greyhound Company appeal on an order to provide service along Skyline Drive.

Greyhound does not want to run service in this area and is appealing a desicion of the PUC that it be required to do so.

Members of the Westview Improvement Club have asked support of the Pacifica City Council to seek bus transportation service in this area.

San Bruno will also protest the Greyhound action, Pasifica City Manager Karl Baldwin stated at last week's meeting.

Coast Woos University

Pacifica is making a bid for the proposed University of California urban campus site.

At the suggestion of Councilwoman Grace McCarthy, a letter is being written to university officials, suggesting that they widen their search for a campus site to include Pacifica.

Mrs. McCarthy noted that any donation of land from Pacificans might be a great inducement.

One More City Needed For Quorum

The League of California Cities' Peninsula Division consists of 35 municipalities in three counties—San Mateo, San Francisco, and Santa Clara.

As might be expected, it is nearly impossible to get representatives of all those cities together at one time for a meeting, what with routine meetings in each city every week.

So when the division met at San Francisco's Olympic Club last Thursday night to adopt new bylaws, it was only natural that a discussion of how many members would constitute a quorum should arise.

The proposed bylaws said 20 per cent of the member cities. An amendment offered by Monte Sereno Mayor Thomas Inglis proposed changing that to 50 per cent.

That would mean that 18 member cities must be on hand before any business could be transacted. Most members felt that that was too many — and someone pointed out that only 17 were present at the moment.

Could it be that the Monte Sereno delegation, which would have created a quorum under its suggested amendment, was absent?

It could.

After a brief discussion, those members present agreed on a compromise.

Under the bylaws adopted last night, 25 per cent of the member cities must be on hand before business may be transacted.

D.C. Woman Is Named To Jewish Post

Mrs. Philip (Bernice) Frucht of 1339 Southgate Avenue, Daly City, has been appointed co-chairman of the Daly City section for the residential division in the 1966 Campaign of the Jewish Welfare Federation of San Francisco, Marin County and the Peninsula, it was announced by Mrs. Robert O. (Leslie) Appleton, division chairman.

Mrs. Sidney (Jeannette) Bronstein of 4 Manor Court, Daly City, appointed previously, is her co-chairman.

The residential division will conduct its annual one-day, door-to-door solicitation on Sunday, March 13, on behalf of the Jewish Welfare Federation Campaign which seeks to raise $2,700,000 for the support of needy Jews in 30 countries throughout the world and 36 health and welfare beneficiary agencies here and abroad.

Campaign slogan is "Give 'Til It Helps."

Mrs. Frucht is the wife of an accountant.

Instant Potatoes Curried and Curled

Everyday foods — potatoes, perhaps — challenge an inventive cook the most. To aid her adventure the Borden Kitchen created this Curried Potato-Mushroom Casserole with all the convenience and low-cost of instant whipped potatoes, always ready-to-use cottage cheese and canned mushrooms. On the side: flaky hot rolls.

Curried Potato-Mushroom Casserole
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

- 1/4 cup PLUS 2 tablespoons butter, or new Danish margarine
- 1-1/2 cups (three 4-oz. cans) fancy sliced button mushrooms, well drained
- 1 cup very thinly sliced onions
- 1/3 cup flour
- 1 cup (8-oz. pkg.) small curd creamed cottage cheese
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley
- 1/4 cup dry sherry
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash black pepper

Curried Potatoes:
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup homogenized milk
- 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
- 1-1/4 cups (one section of 4-1/8-oz. box) Borden's instant whipped potatoes, (dry flakes)

In a heavy skillet, melt 1/4 cup butter or margarine over low heat. Add mushrooms and onions; sauté 10 minutes, or until tender. Stir in flour. Add cottage cheese, parsley, sherry, salt and pepper; mix well. Turn mixture into an ungreased 9-inch square or oval casserole. In a medium-size saucepan, combine water, salt and remaining butter or margarine; bring to a boil. Remove from heat; stir in milk and curry powder. Add potato flakes; stir gently until flakes are soft and moist. Beat briskly with a fork or wire whisk. With decorating bag, pipe potatoes over top and around sides of mushroom casserole. Place under broiler (about 6-inches from flame) 5 minutes, or until potatoes are lightly browned. Serve immediately.

Let's Go Fishing For Creative Cook

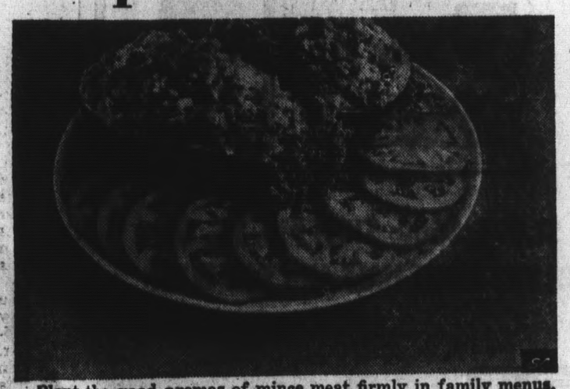
Fish spurs on a creative cook, encourages her to try new and winning ways with food. She might, as a delicious Borden Kitchen suggestion, sandwich very-sharp American cheese slices and seasoned bread stuffing between thick-cut, fresh halibut steaks. Bake gently, then present with a crisp green salad and hot butter crescent rolls for a picture-perfect meatless meal.

Stuffed Halibut Steaks
(Makes 6 servings)

- 2 (1 pound each) halibut steaks
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1/4 cup butter, or new Danish margarine
- 1-1/2 cups chopped onion
- 3 cups fresh bread cubes
- 3 tablespoons dehydrated parsley flakes
- 2 teaspoons dry mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 (8 slice-6-oz. package) Vera-Sharp Pasteurized Process American Cheese
- 2 tablespoons butter, or new Danish margarine, melted
- Parsley, optional

Wipe each fish steak with a clean, damp cloth. Carefully remove bone in center. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. In a heavy skillet, melt 1/4 cup butter over medium-low heat. Add onions; saute until tender. Remove from heat. Lightly stir in bread cubes, parsley flakes, dry mustard and salt. In a well-buttered 12 x 7-1/2 x 2-inch baking dish, place one fish steak; spread stuffing evenly over top. Arrange 4 slices of cheese over stuffing. Top with second fish steak. Secure with food picks. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Bake in a moderate (375°F.) oven 30 minutes. Remove from oven; arrange remaining cheese slices overlapping on top of fish. Bake 10 minutes longer, or until cheese is partially melted. If desired, garnish with parsley. Serve immediately.

Filled Eggplant A Spirited Dish



Plant the good aromas of mince meat firmly in family menus. From the Borden Kitchen comes this spirited way: a medley of lamb, mince meat, rice, and tomato peaked high in a deep purple eggplant shell.

Alyce's Favorite Filled Eggplant
(Makes six servings)

- 1 medium-size eggplant
- 1 tablespoon butter, or new Danish margarine
- 1/2 pound ground lamb
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1/2 cup uncooked long-grain rice
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1-1/3 cups (one-half 28-oz. jar) None Such Ready-to-Use Mince Meat
- 2-1/2 cups (1 lb. 3-oz. can) tomatoes
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter, or new Danish margarine, melted
- 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs

In a saucepot, boil eggplant 10 minutes. Remove eggplant to absorbent paper toweling; cool. In a heavy 10-inch skillet, melt 1 tablespoon margarine or butter over medium-low heat. Add lamb; stir with a fork until browned. Add chopped onion, rice, salt, pepper, mince meat, tomatoes and water; mix well. Halve eggplant lengthwise; remove pulp leaving a shell 1/2-inch thick. Dice pulp; add to mince meat-lamb mixture. Cover. Cook 30 to 35 minutes, or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. (If necessary, add more boiling water.) Remove from heat. Place prepared eggplant shells in a greased 12 x 7-1/2 x 2-inch baking dish; sprinkle with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Spoon mince meat-lamb mixture into shells. Combine melted margarine or butter and bread crumbs. Sprinkle mixture evenly over mince meat-lamb filling. Bake in a moderate (375°F.) oven about 20 minutes, or until eggplant shells are tender and crumbs are golden brown.

Chocolate Tarts Popular Cousins

The popular cookin' cousins team of chocolate and walnuts is back together in a new party recipe from the Diamond Walnut Kitchen. It's Walnut Chocolate Tarts, a perfect blending of semi-sweet chocolate morsels and crunchy, flavorful walnuts. Serve the tarts for an afternoon coffee or tea-time treat, or as a special finale to a guest dinner party menu.

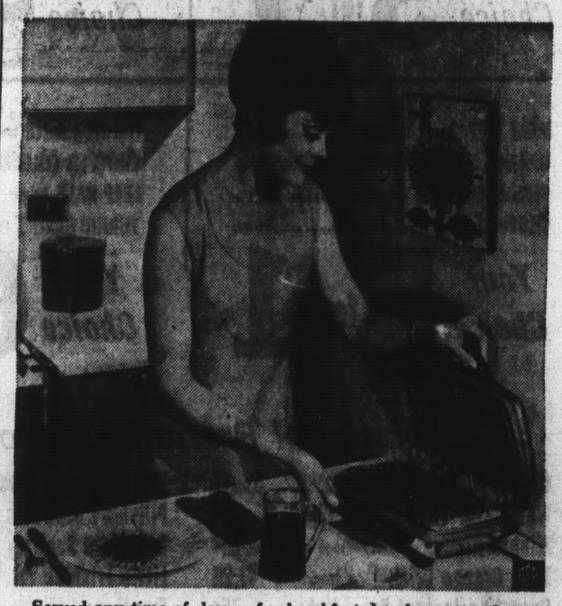
Chocolate and walnuts compliment each other so well you'll want to try them together in other desserts, too, like cookies, ice cream and sauces, puddings, pies, cakes and frostings. You'll find plenty of fresh-tasting walnuts from California either in-the-shell in cellophane bags or already shelled in handy vacuum cans or clear bags.

Walnut Chocolate Tarts

- 1½ cups Diamond Walnuts
- 3 egg whites
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup sifted powdered sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 6-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate morsels
- Pastry for 8 (3½-inch) tart shells
- Whipped Cream
- Walnut halves

Grate or chop walnuts very fine, or place ½ cup at a time in blender jar and process by turning on and off until walnuts are very fine. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff. Gradually beat in sugar, adding a tablespoon at a time. Fold in vanilla, walnuts and chocolate morsels. Heap into pastry-lined tart pans. Bake on lowest shelf of oven at 375 degrees about 25 minutes until browned. Cool before serving. Top with whipped cream and decorate with walnut halves. Makes eight (3½-inch) tarts.

Enjoy Waffles 'Round the Clock



Served any time of day — for breakfast, lunch or as a dessert — waffles can be "dressed up" in tempting ways.

Here's a favorite Plain Waffle recipe developed by home economists in the General Electric Housewares test kitchens. They suggest that you serve piping hot waffles at the table for informal family meals and buffet entertaining. This recipe yields four 4-section waffles.

Plain Waffle Batter

- 2 egg whites
- 2 egg yolks
- 1⅔ cups milk
- ¼ cup melted shortening or salad oil
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoons baking powder

Place egg whites in mixing bowl; beat at high speed until stiff, not dry; set aside. In another bowl place egg yolks, milk and shortening; beat at medium speed until blended, about 30 seconds. Sift flour, sugar, salt and baking powder together. Add to egg yolk mixture and beat at medium speed, about one minute. Remove from mixer and fold in egg whites.

Preheat waffle baker according to the instruction booklet. Home economists in the G.E. Housewares test kitchens remind you to pour the batter from end to end along the center of the lower grid. Using about a cup of batter, spread evenly over grids. Close the waffle baker quickly. Once the signal light goes on, do not open the unit since this may break the waffle. When the light goes off the waffle is done. The Teflon-coated grids prevent food from sticking and assure easy clean-up.

Don't stack waffles; this will destroy their crispness. If you make them in advance for a group, keep them warm in a very low-heat oven with the door slightly open. Wrap leftover waffles in freezer paper and store them. Later, reheat in a toaster.

For breakfast, serve waffles with grilled sausages wrapped in bacon strips. Serve luncheon waffles with tuna or chicken a la king shortcake style. Top dessert waffles with fresh or frozen fruits; add a scoop of ice cream for a richer dessert.

SAFEWAY (S) BRANDS
What are they? Why do they sell for less?

Our Safeway ad usually includes a lot of brands which are sold in almost every food store. But this week, our biggest specials are on brands you can buy only at Safeway. We call them Safeway (S) Brands and each carries the famous (S) mark right on its label.

It's a family of top quality products. Several of them may be old friends to you: Lucerne, Bel-air, Mrs. Wright's and Town House. And there are many others we want you to meet. (That's the reason for this big sale!)

Some Safeway (S) Brands we manufacture ourselves; others are made for us by the most responsible manufacturers in the country. All are made under rigid quality specifications. All carry Safeway's Money Back Guarantee. We sell them for less because they cost us less. It's as simple as that!

Shoppers Jam the Mall

SHOPPERS JAMMED Westlake Shopping Center last Tuesday for the third annual "Washington's Birthday Sale." More than 8,000 pieces of cherry cake were served to the throngs of holiday buyers. In spite of torrential rains that fell about mid-day, new one-day sales highs were recorded for the event in most stores, merchant sources said. The special one-day sale was promoted exclusively through an advertising supplement of the Post-Times.

SAN BRUNO TALK

New Pacific Air Center Plan Told

Plans for the proposed multi-million dollar Pacific Air Commerce Center were to be presented to directors of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce yesterday at the chamber's regular morning meeting at Uncle John's Pancake House in Millbrae.

Pacific Air Center Project Manager Robert Cranmer was to explain to chamber members the plans for the project, and its probable impact on San Bruno.

The proposed center would be constructed on several hundred acres of bayfront land, most of it filled. According to its advocates, the center would include "huge industrial areas for aviation-oriented firms and warehouses for housing for air cargo development.

"In addition, blueprints are being made which show recreational facilities, marinas and beach areas to preserve and enhance the natural beauty of the bayshore."

The center, which would extend south from San Francisco International Airport through San Mateo, is being planned by three shareholders: Crocker Land Company of San Francisco, Ideal Cement Company of Denver, and David Rockefeller Associates of New York.

It would not be a continuous strip of land, since several sections of bayfront in the area are already developed.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Dick King said the commerce center would have a great long-range impact on San Bruno; King has strongly stressed his city's ties with the nearby airport since assuming his job recently.

Referring to San Bruno as "the Airport City," King pointed out that San Bruno Avenue runs directly to the airport service and cargo area, giving workers there the closest access to shopping, businesses and homes.

"When people ask about industry in San Bruno," King said, "I tell them we have the area's biggest industrial park right at our doorstep—the International Airport."

For the mutual benefit of San Bruno and the airport, the Chamber of Commerce has formed an aviation committee. "We hope to get other North County chambers to join us," said King, "to encourage expansion of the aviation industry."

Yesterday's report on the air commerce center is one example of the long-range planning by what King calls, "the Peninsula's first jet-age chamber of commerce."

BUSINESS & FINANCE

FLOYD C. MORGAN of 736 Larchmont Drive, Colma, has been promoted from assistant cashier to assistant vice president at The Bank of California's San Francisco head office. Morgan has been with the bank for 21 years and an officer since 1959.

Savings Bank Will Present Exhibition

An exhibition of paintings by C. H. (Bud) Hunziker will open at American Savings and Loan Associations of California at 5 Southgate Avenue in Westlake on March 18.

A versatile showing of representational paintings, from cascading waterfalls to a little boy's portrait, are featured in the display, according to manager R. M. Brubaker.

The widely exhibited California artist pictures scenes of Arizona, Oregon and California through the medium of watercolor in this show. Although he also works in oils, Hunziker's first love is watercolors because "with oils," he says, "a painter is tempted to everlastingly correct and change. With watercolors you either capture the feeling you are after the first time or not at all. You can make minor corrections, of course, but watercolor has a spirit of spontaneity that oil rarely achieves."

Hunziker studied five years at Art Center and Jepson Art Institute in Los Angeles and has worked as a display artist with the Air Force, freelanced in advertising art, and has been a commercial artist at Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. in Sunnyvale for nine years. He has been a watercolor painter for 20 years.

"The American Savings exhibit will continue through April 15," Brubaker announced, "and interested artists are invited to exhibit their works following this showing."

The branch is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily, and until 6 p.m. on Fridays.

Better Business Gives Advice

During the Spring of 1965, the Williamson Gang descended upon San Mateo County in force.

Many homeowners, to their sorrow, fell for roof and driveway repairs at that time. This year the Better Business Bureau has been alerted early to their return.

One gang of three has already registered at a San Mateo motel and will be canvassing San Mateo County communities shortly.

The Williamsons are generally not licensed contractors and very seldom take out business licenses in the community's work.

They go door-to-door soliciting roof and driveway repairs at a very low figure. Their repairs usually consist of oiling roofs, and sealing driveways.

Past experience indicates that materials actually used in these so-called repairs are adulterated and cause more damage than good.

Transameric Elects Veep

Thomas G. Kenney has been elected a senior vice president of the Northern California Operations of Transamerica Title Insurance Company, Dana G. Leavitt, President, has announced.

Kenney joined the firm in 1953 and has been serving as a vice president in administrative matters.

The firm is a wholly owned subsidiary of Transamerica Corporation and has 45 offices in California, and affiliated operations in Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, Oregon, Washington and Michigan.

Kenney attended the University of California.

Anti-Cancer Show Ready

"Youth Against Cancer," begins a four-day educational exhibit today in the Westlake Shopping Center Mall and will continue through Saturday.

"Hopeless Harry," and "Hapless Hannah," "smoking" dummies, will be stars of the exhibit. A continuous film for children and adults will be featured.

Students from Jefferson and Westmoor High Schools, will distribute free "life-saving" literature to the public and auxiliary volunteers will be on hand to answer questions about cancer or the services of the American Cancer Society.

4000 Sign Up In Jefferson Adult Classes

More than 4,000 students are enrolled this spring in the Jefferson Union High School District Adult Education division.

Enrollment is still open for those who did not register January 31-February 5, with 178 classes offered in 11 departments.

Still open are 35 sections of business education classes, 30 academic, 26 homemaking, 22 special interest, 19 fine arts and crafts, and 13 languages.

Ten industrial arts classes, eight Americanization, even health, education, six music and two elementary classes are also available.

D.C. Firemen Earn Credits

Seven captains and 14 firemen in the Daly City Fire Department have completed courses of instruction in handling hazardous materials and in fire protection and suppression at the College of San Mateo.

The courses are included in the college's Fire Science Curriculum. The curriculum was established by the San Mateo County Fire Chief Administrative Council.

Fire department officers and firemen attend classes in their off hours. Classroom time for each course is 54 hours. College units are earned for each completed course.

The seven captains are: Vern Brooke, Lyle Church, Robert Greenstrand, Gerald Grey, Richard May, John Roy and Jack Winters.

The 14 firemen are Garry Baker, Alfred Baldocchi, Robert Barbara, Alberto DaCunha, Gregory Hanlon, Robert Hourigan, William Jordan, Charles Kreiger, James Langwell, Thomas Mackerracher, Donald May, Richard Merlo, Albert Thusen and Richard Verducci.

Woodlake Joe's Also Serves Sunday Brunch

THE ULTRA SWANK WOODLAKE JOE'S, located in the Woodlake Shopping Center, is off to a successful restaurant start—with Restaurateurs Vic Scafani and John Graziano, owners of the well-established South San Francisco Brentwood Lodge, at the culinary helm. Enjoyed a delightful dinner at Woodlake Joe's last week, then doubled back next day for 10 a.m. Sunday morning brunch, which has caught on big with the "golf set." Noticed there were many "fores" seated in the plush dining room and also at the counter. Woodlake Joe's is open daily from 11 a.m. to mid-night serving both luncheon and dinner. The adjoining Fireside Lounge is also a congenial place to meet your friends for before or after-dinner cocktails . . . Reservations are still pouring in at the Legion Cocktail Lounge in Redwood City for the big St. Patrick's Day bash scheduled for Saturday, March 19. Post Commander Bill Dent will feature a corned beef and cabbage dinner at $2.50 per person, in addition to live music. Dancing every Friday and Saturday evening, starting at 9 p.m.

THERE'S A REASON: In case you're wondering why you haven't seen smiling JOE COHEN in and about BAY MEADOWS RACE TRACK, these days, he's been a patient in Mills Memorial Hospital—and doing nicely, thank you. As a suggestion: Don't phone, send a card. Joe, from all of us, a speedy recovery! Without you around, the "winner's circle" is mighty empty. . . . RUDOLFO'S Continental restaurant in Palo Alto, (owned by the ALFINITO BROS. —HARRY, ART, GEORGE, RUDY and AL) can be made available for your next party occasion—such as dinner-dancing, wedding receptions, group meetings, banquets, luncheons, or dinner parties. Maitre d' Art Alfinito will be happy to show you all Rudolfo's facilities. . . . Atherton's' delightful COTE D' AZUR is serving to record numbers of French food lovers, these evenings. The team of Owners DAN BIAGI and RENE CANABOU make it both Continental and hospitable. Piano bar entertainment six nights a week in the cocktail lounge by "twinkle fingers" AUGUSTO AMADOR.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, will receive sealed bids FOR THE FURNISHING OF ALL LABOR, MATERIALS, TRANSPORTATION AND SERVICES required for the PUBLIC SERVICE CENTER AT SAN MATEO COUNTY FAIR GROUNDS, 2495 South Delaware, San Mateo, for the County of San Mateo.

2. Each bid shall be in accordance with drawings, specifications, and contract documents prepared therefore now on file with the Purchasing Agent, County of San Mateo, Courthouse, Redwood City, California.

3. Drawings, specifications, and contract documents may be examined and copies obtained at the Office of the County Purchasing Agent, Redwood City, California, upon deposit of $25.00 for said documents, which deposits will be forfeited if the Contractor fails to return the drawings and specifications in good condition within ten (10) days of the bid opening date.

4. A complete set of drawings, specifications and contract documents may be examined at the Office of the San Mateo County Director of Building Construction, County Office Building, Redwood City, California.

5. Bidders are responsible to see that they obtain a complete set of plans, specifications and contract documents covering the work upon which they submit a bid.

6. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished and bound in the specifications and in accordance with regulations, as set forth in the General Conditions, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for 10% of the amount of the bid as noted in said General Conditions.

7. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 15th day of MARCH, 1966, at 2:15 P.M., and will be opened in public in the Chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 2:15 P.M. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

8. The Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, reserves the right to reject any and all bids, alternate bids, or unit prices, and/or waive any irregularities in any bid received.

9. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty days after the date set for the opening thereof.

10. Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, or local law thereto applicable, the Board of Supervisors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is being performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute this contract which will be awarded the successful bidder.

11. It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor, and upon any sub-contractors under him, to pay not less than the said specific rates to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

12. The prevailing rates so determined are as follows and are based on an eight hour day, forty hour week, except as otherwise noted. Existing agreements between the Building Trades and the Construction Industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

LOCAL LABOR:

13. It is the policy of the Owner that contractors on public projects employ their workers and craftsmen from the local labor market whenever possible. Consistent with that policy the Contractor is requested to employ his craftsmen and other workers from the local labor market whenever possible to do so. "Local Labor Market" within the meaning of this section is defined as the labor market within the geographical confines of the County of San Mateo, State of California.

WAGE RATES:

14. The Board of Supervisors has determined the rate of prevailing wages in the locality in which the work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform the contract. Said prevailing rates are set forth below:

CRAFT	PER HOUR
Bricklayers	$5.55
Carpenters	4.575
Cement Masons	4.665
Electricians	5.38
Glaziers	4.69
Iron Workers (Reinforcing Steel)	5.20
Iron Workers (Welders)	5.41
Laborers
Group I	4.025
Group II	3.875
Group III	3.775
Painters	4.72
Plumbers	5.245
Roofer	4.45
Sheetmetal Worker	5.70

ANY WAGE RATE NOT LISTED HEREIN FOR ANY OTHER BUILDING CRAFT, SAN MATEO COUNTY WAGE RATES WILL APPLY.

A bond will be required for the faithful performance of the Contractor in amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the amount of the bid, and a bond will be required to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and all bids contracted for materials used in the performance of the Contract in an amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the bid.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS,
County of San Mateo, State of California.
E. B. SMITH, Purchasing Agent.

To be published in THE SAN MATEO POST, at San Mateo, California, Wednesday, March 2, 9, 1966. (P-1027)
